COVERNMENT OF BENCAL.

Political Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4420 Pl.—The 1st October 1926.—Whereas the Governor in Council is satisfied, for the reasons hereinafter set forth, that the public tranquillity and security of life and property in the Presidency Area are endangered:

Now therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of the Presidency Area (Emergency) Security Act, 1926 (Bengal Act III of 1926), the Governor in Council declares that a state of emergency exists.

Reasons.—A state of emergency was declared to exist on the 25th May 1926 and section 4 of the Presidency Area (Emergency) Security Act, 1926, remained in force until the 24th August 1926. Since that date communal tension in Calcutta has still persisted and a considerable number of persons who are likely to contribute to disorder and to control whose movements the Act was passed, have returned to Calcutta and are a danger to public tranquillity: while the riot which occurred at Kidderpore on the 5th September has shown that the security of life and property in the Presidency Area are endangered. This danger is likely to be enhanced during the period of the Durga and Lakshmi Pujas when many religious processions will be taken through the streets. The Governor in Council is satisfied that public tranquillity and the security of life and property are endangered in the Presidency Area and therefore declares that a state of emergency exists.

A. N. Moberly,

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads :—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the District Board has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.	The ordinary surplus is sufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan as explained in (d) below.
(b) Possible means of increase in the revenues of the District Board.	Revaluation of cesses which is now going on.
(c) A statement of all outstanding loans specifying, in respect of each loan the date when taken, the purpose (very briefly) amount, the annual charges in and the amount still payable.	Nil.
(d) Any explanations in regard to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the District Board when such position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate.	The income of the Board has fallen short during the year 1924-25 as the Board had to meet the costs of revaluation, but when it will be completed, the income would be more than sufficient to meet the cost of repayment of loan. And in those years when the revaluation would go on, the funds for the repayment of the instalments would be available by curtailing the Board's annual allotment for improvement of water-supply from the Board's ordinary income as larger expenditure would be incurred in those years from the proposed loan and the surplus allotment available from the ordinary income of the Board would be applied in payment of instalments as they fall due.

Rs. 7,107

Remarks.

(1) There was no marked variation in the revenue side in the years 1923-24 and 1924-25, the difference was only Rs. 1,319. There was, however, a marked increase in 1925-26 over the revenue of 1924-25, the difference being Rs. 13,617. This increase was due to normal increase in the ordinary revenue of the board and to the receipt of arrear Government grant for half the pay of its Health Officer and a greater interest from cesses.

(2) The variation in the expenditure was proportionate to the variation in the revenue.

In addition to the details required on the reverse clear information should be given below under the following heads :—

For the purposes of this chapter every system of underground workings interconnected in such a manner that communication is practicable from any one part of the system to any other part by means of underground channels shall be deemed to constitute one mine. If access from one system of underground workings to another such system is not so practicable, each such system shall be deemed to constitute a separate mine.

21. A duly qualified manager may be permitted by order in writing of the Chief Inspector to manage more than one mine, if the Chief Inspector is of opinion that the mines supervised by him are sufficiently near to one another to permit of effective supervision being exercised, and that an adequate subordinate supervising staff is maintained at each mine. The Chief Inspector may at any time, by order in writing, revoke any such permission and such order shall be final.

22. Save as provided by regulation 21 no person shall act as manager of more than one mine.

Provided further that an appeal from any order passed by the Chief Inspector under the foregoing proviso shall lie to the Mining Board constituted under section 10 of the Act or, if no Mining Board has been so constituted for the Province in which the appellant is employed, to the Local Government and the order of the Mining Board or of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

24. (1) The Chief Inspector may, by order in writing, authorise any person, whom he may consider competent, to act as manager of any mine or mines for a specified period, notwithstanding that such person does not possess the qualifications prescribed in that behalf by regulation 23; and may by a like order revoke any such authority at any time and such order shall be final.

(2) In every mine personal supervision shall be exercised by the manager.

(3) Where by reason of absence or for any other reason the manager is unable to exercise personal supervision the owner, agent or manager shall authorise in writing a person whom he considers competent to act as manager of the mine:

Provided that—

He shall assign to every such person his particular duties, shall on his appointment make over to him a copy of the regulations, rules and bye-laws which affect him and shall take all possible steps to ensure that every such person understands, carries out and enforces the provisions therein contained. Copies of all appointments made by the manager shall be kept in the office at the mine.

26. Every person employed underground in a mine as an official subordinate to the manager and superior to the underground sirdar shall hold either a manager's certificate or sirdar's certificate granted under these regulations:

Provided that this regulation shall not come into force until the 1st day of January 1927.

(2) The owner, agent, or manager of any mine shall, on the demand of an Inspector, produce any sirdar's certificate held by a person employed in the mine.

48. If at any time a representation is made by the Chief Inspector to the Local Government that the holder of a manager's certificate or of a surveyor's certificate has been guilty of misconduct or incompetency in the discharge of his duties, or has been convicted of any offence made punishable by the Act with fine which may extend to Rs. 500 or more, or with imprisonment which may extend to three months or more, the Local Government may cause an inquiry to be made into the matter; and with respect to such inquiry the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) The inquiry shall be public, and shall be held at such place as the Local Government may appoint, and by such person or uneven number of persons as it may direct (hereinafter in this regulation referred to as the Court), either alone or with the assistance of any assessor or assessors appointed by the Local Government. Such assessors shall be practical mining engineers or persons with a knowledge of the practical working of mines. The functions of the assessors shall be purely advisory and they shall not be regarded as members of the Court.

(b) The Local Government shall, before the commencement of the inquiry, furnish the person whose conduct is under inquiry with a copy of the representation on which the inquiry is instituted.

(c) The Local Government may appoint any person to undertake the management of the case.

(d) The person whose conduct is under inquiry may attend the inquiry, and may either conduct his case personally or be represented by any other person approved by the Court.

(e) If a majority of the persons constituting the Court thinks fit, the person whose conduct is under inquiry may be required to deliver up his certificate at any time before or during the inquiry, and such person shall be bound to comply with such requisition, unless he shows sufficient cause to the contrary.

(f) The Court shall, on the conclusion of the inquiry, send to the Local Government a report containing a full statement of the case together with its opinion thereon and such account of or extracts from the evidence as it may think fit, and if it considers that the certificate in question should be cancelled or suspended it shall add a recommendation to that effect. In the event of disagreement between the members composing any Court, the dissentient or dissentients from the opinion of the majority may forward a separate report to the Local Government with a statement of their recommendations.

(g) After considering the report or reports and the recommendations (if any) submitted under clause (f), the Local Government may cancel or suspend the certificate, and, if it does so, the fact of such cancellation or suspension shall, if the certificate is produced, be endorsed upon it, and, if it is not produced or if at any time a duplicate has been granted under regulation 44, be notified in the Gazette of India and in the local official gazette.

49. If, in the opinion of an Inspector, a person to whom a sirdar's certificate has been granted is guilty of misconduct or incompetence in the discharge of his duties, the Inspector may suspend the certificate. Every such suspension shall be reported forthwith to the Board of Examiners and the Board shall thereupon, after such inquiry as it thinks fit, either remove or extend the suspension or cancel the certificate, and the decision of the Board shall be final.

50. (1) A permit (in these regulations referred to as a manager's permit) may be granted by the Chief Inspector at his discretion to any person authorising such person to act as the manager of any specified mine the average monthly output of which does not exceed 600 tons.

(2) All such permits shall be signed by the Chief Inspector and shall be valid for such period not exceeding one year as he may specify therein.

(3) A fee of five rupees shall be chargeable for the grant of a manager's permit.

(4) The Chief Inspector may at any time renew any manager's permit for a further period not exceeding one year, notwithstanding that such permit has already been so renewed. No fee shall be chargeable in respect of any such renewal.

(5) A manager's permit may be cancelled at any time by the Chief Inspector by order in writing without assigning any reason for such cancellation and such order shall be final.

(6) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, no manager's permit shall be granted or renewed on or after the first day of January, 1927, to any person who is not the holder of a sirdar's certificate.

51. A register showing the names and addresses of all holders of certificates or permits granted under these regulations and all cancellations of such certificates or permits shall be maintained in the office of the Chief Inspector.

52. Any certificate, permit or authorisation specified in the first column of the table below which has been issued under the Indian Mines Act, 1901, or under any rule made thereunder and is valid at the commencement of these regulations, shall, for the purposes of the Act and these regulations, be deemed respectively to be the equivalent of the certificate, permit or authorisation specified in the corresponding entry in the second column of the table and to have been issued under these regulations.

CHAPTER V.

SHAFTS AND OUTLETS.

53. (1) The owner, agent or manager of a mine shall neither employ any person in the mine, nor permit any person to be in the mine for the purpose of employment therein, unless there are at least two shafts or outlets with which every seam for the time being at work has a communication, so that such shafts or outlets afford separate means of ingress and egress available to the persons employed in the seam.

(2) Proper arrangements shall be made for persons to descend to, and ascend from, the mine at each of such shafts or outlets. If apparatus is necessary, it shall be kept on the works belonging to the mine, and shall be constantly available for use.

(3) Such shafts or outlets shall be not less than 45 feet distant from one another at any point, and each shall be connected with the other by means of a communication not less than 4 feet high and 4 feet wide.

(4) Whenever communication between the two outlets which are required to be maintained under sub-regulation (1) has been blocked, or fenced off under regulation 140 (1), only such persons as are necessary to clear the obstruction, or to repair the dangerous part of the communication or to make a new second outlet, shall be employed in the mine until such time as communication has been re-established or a new second outlet has been provided.

(5) The foregoing provisions of this regulation with respect to shafts and outlets shall not apply—

(i) while a shaft is being sunk or an outlet is being made,

(ii) to any working for the purpose of making communication between two or more shafts or outlets,

(iii) to any working for the sole purpose of searching for or proving minerals, so long as not more than 40 persons are employed underground at any one time in the whole of the different seams in connection with a single shaft or outlet ;

Provided that nothing in this sub-regulation shall be deemed to authorise the driving of ordinary gallaries for development before a second outlet has been made in accordance with the said provisions.

(6) The Chief Inspector may exempt from the operation of this regulation, subject to such conditions as he may impose, any mine in the case of which special difficulties exist which in his opinion make compliance with the provisions of this regulation not reasonably practicable.

(7) So much of this regulation as requires two shafts or outlets to be separated by a distance of not less than 45 feet shall not apply to any shafts the sinking of which was commenced before the 10th day of March 1904.

54. Where the natural strata are not safe, every working or pumping shafts and every shaft in course of being sunk, shall be securely cased, lined or otherwise made secure.

55. Every part of a mine shall, where practicable, be provided with at least two ways affording means of egress to the surface.

56. Where it is necessary for persons to pass from one side of a winding shaft to the other, proper provision shall be made enabling them to do so without crossing the shaft.

57. A competent person or persons, of not less than 21 years of age, appointed by the manager for the purpose shall, once at least in every week, examine the state of the shafts by which persons ascend or descend, and shall without delay write or cause to be written a full and accurate report of the result of such examination. Every such report shall be recorded in a paged book to be kept at the mine for the purpose, and shall be signed and dated by the person who made the examination.

CHAPTER VI.

RAISING AND LOWERING PERSONS OR MATERIALS.

58. At every shaft or incline where persons or materials are lowered or raised by means of machinery the following provisions shall have effect, namely :—

(a) A single linked chain shall not be used for lowering or raising persons, except for the short coupling chain attached to a cage, skip, bucket or tub.

(b) Where the apparatus ordinarily used for raising or lowering persons to or from the surface is worked by mechanical power, it shall, if the shaft is vertical and exceeds 150 feet in depth, be provided with a detaching hook. The space between the detaching hook and the detaching plate when the cage is at the normal position at the top of the shaft shall not be less than 6 feet where a geard winding engine is used, and not less than 12 feet where a direct acting engine is used.

The provision of this clause shall not come into force until the 1st day of October 1927.

(c) There shall be attached to every machine worked by mechanical power, and used for raising and lowering persons, one or more brakes of sufficient power by themselves to hold the cage, skip, bucket or tub, when loaded, at any point in the shaft, and a proper indicator (in addition to any mark on the rope) showing to the person who works the machine the position of the cage, skip, bucket or tub in the shaft; and, if the drum is not on the crank shaft, there shall be an adequate brake on the drum shaft :

Provided that in the case of a shaft not exceeding 100 feet in depth so much of this clause as requires an indicator shall not apply.

(d) Every apparatus on or in which persons ride in a working shaft, shall be provided with a sufficient cover overhead, except—

(i) in a shaft not exceeding 150 feet in depth where buckets or other appliances are used for winding, or

(ii) in a shaft in course of sinking, or

(iii) where persons are employed at work in a shaft.

(e) Every working shaft used for the purpose of drawing mineral or for lowering or raising persons shall, if exceeding 150 feet in depth, be provided with proper means of communicating distinct and definite signals from the bottom of the shaft, and from every entrance for the time being in use between the surface and the bottom of the shaft, to the surface, and from the surface to the bottom of the shaft and to every entrance for the time being in use between the surface and the bottom of the shaft. There shall also be proper means of transmitting distinct and definite signals from the top of every winding shaft to the winding engine. All signals shall be transmitted by mechanical or electrical means.

(f) (i) The first three or principal signals shall be—

One rap	...	RAISE when engine at rest.
One rap	...	STOP when engine in motion.
Two raps	...	LOWER.
Three raps	...	MEN ready to ascend or descend.
Three raps	...	IN REPLY. Men may enter the cage or other conveyance.

(ii) Any other signals shall be in addition to, and shall not interfere with the foregoing.

(iii) A printed copy of the code of shaft signals shall be posted at the shaft top and at every inset, and also at the winding engine.

(iv) No person other than the banksman or onsetter shall give any signal unless he is an official of the mine or is authorised in writing by the manager to give signals.

(g) Every working shaft (except a shaft in course of sinking) used for lowering or raising persons shall, if it exceeds 150 feet in depth, be provided with guides.

(h) At the bottom of every working shaft in which a cage is used, protective roofing shall be provided sufficient to prevent danger from anything falling in the shaft.

(i) Adequate stationary lights shall be provided and used during working hours—

(l) at all places where persons have to work underground in the immediate vicinity of shafts, and

(s) after dark at the tops of all working shafts and at all winding engines used for raising and lowering persons.

(j) There shall be on the drum of every machine used for lowering or raising persons such flanges, horns or other appliances as may be sufficient to prevent the rope from slipping. The rope shall be securely fastened round an arm or the shaft of the drum, and there shall be at least two turns of the rope on the drum when the cage, skip, bucket or tub is at the bottom of the shaft. After any stoppage of winding for more than two hours, the cage, skip, bucket or tub shall, before any person is allowed to ride therein, be run a complete trip up and down the working portion of the shaft at least once, to ensure that everything is in good working order.

(k) Every cage shall be provided with catches or some other suitable contrivance to prevent tubs from falling out, and shall, if used for lowering or raising persons, be covered in completely at the top and closed in at the two sides in a manner sufficient to prevent persons or things from projecting beyond the sides and shall be provided with suitable gates or other rigid fences and with a rigid hand bar fixed in a position where it can be easily reached by all persons in the cage.

(l) A competent person or persons, of not less than 21 years of age, appointed by the manager for the purpose shall, once at least in every 24 hours, examine the state of the external parts of the machinery and of the head-gear, ropes, chains, cages, guides, and conductors in the shafts and other similar appliances of the mine which are in actual use, both under ground and above ground, and shall without delay write or cause to be written a full and accurate report of the result of such examination. Every such report shall be recorded in a paged book to be kept at the mine for the purpose, and shall be signed and dated by the person who made the examination.

59. No person shall get on or off a cage, skip, tub or bucket used for lowering or raising persons after the same has been set in motion, or leave it until it has reached the appointed stopping place; nor shall any person ride on the top or edge of any cage, skip, tub or bucket except when engaged upon special work in the shaft.

60. No person, when ascending or descending a shaft, shall take with him any tools or other bulky materials, save when engaged in repairing the shaft or when otherwise specially authorised by the manager:

Provided that, in the case of tools only, the manager may, by general order, permit the same to be carried.

61. No person shall ride in a shaft on, or against, a loaded cage, skip, tub or bucket.

62. Every person, when at or about the top or the bottom of a shaft, shall obey the orders and directions of the shaft attendants on duty at the time.

63. Not more than such number of persons as may be authorised by the manager shall be allowed to ride in the same cage, tub, skip or bucket at one time, and a notice specifying the authorised number shall be posted at the top of every shaft and at every inset in a shaft.

64. No person under 18 years of age and no woman shall descend or ascend a shaft in a cage, tub, skip or bucket unless accompanied by at least one person over eighteen years of age.

65. When the winding apparatus is not provided with some automatic contrivance to prevent overwinding, a point shall be fixed and marked on the indicator in such a way as to show when the cage or other conveyance is within a distance of twice the circumference of the drum from the completion of the wind; and when such cage or conveyance has reached such distance it shall not, if either it or the descending cage contains persons, be raised for the remaining distance at a speed exceeding three miles per hour.

66. (1) All cage chains in general use shall be annealed, and all detaching hooks shall be cleaned and refitted, and all winding ropes shall be re-capped, once at least in every six months, or, if necessary, at shorter intervals.

(2) The date of each such operation shall be recorded in a book kept at the mine for the purpose.

CHAPTER VII.

ROADS AND WORKING PLACES.

67. The roofs and sides of all working places and travelling roads, including airways and travelling roads to second outlets, shall be made and kept secure.

68. (1) In any mine or part of a mine where the roof is of such a nature as to require artificial support, an Inspector, after consultation with the manager, may require such support to be systematic, and may give notice to that effect to the manager, who shall, by notices posted in conspicuous places at the mine, specify the manner in which supports are to be set and advanced and the maximum intervals—

(a) between each row or props,
(b) between adjacent props in the same row,
(c) between the front row or props and the face, and
(d) between chocks or cogs.

(2) The manager and his subordinate staff shall be responsible for securing effective compliance with the terms of the notices and no such mine or part of a mine shall be worked in contravention of these terms.

(3) Where the manager is unable to agree with an Inspector in respect of any order given by such Inspector under sub-regulation (1), an appeal may be preferred, within one month of the receipt of the order, to the Chief Inspector and the order of the Chief Inspector thereon shall be final.

69. (1) In open workings the overburden and all loose ground and material shall be removed sufficiently far from the edge, or otherwise made secure, in such a manner as to prevent danger to persons employed in the mine.

(2) The sides of open workings shall be sloped, stepped or secured, in such a manner as to prevent danger from falls of material.

(3) When an open working is worked in steps, the steps shall be of sufficient breadth in comparison with their height to secure safety.

70. (1) For the purposes of inspections before the commencement of a period of work constituting a shift at a mine, one or more stations shall be fixed by the manager at the entrance to the mine or to different parts of the mine, as the case may require, and no workman shall pass beyond any such station until the part of the mine beyond that station has been examined and reported to be safe in the manner hereinafter provided.

(2) A competent person or persons, having the prescribed qualifications and appointed by the manager, shall within such time, not exceeding two hours before the commencement of work in a shift, as may be fixed by the bye-laws of the mine, inspect every part of the mine situated beyond the station or each of the stations fixed by the manager, in which work-persons are to work or pass during the shift, and all working places in which work is temporarily stopped and the edges of all goaves within any ventilating district in which persons have to work, and shall ascertain the condition thereof so far as the presence of gas, ventilation, roof and sides and general safety are concerned. The result of every such inspection shall be recorded in a book kept at the mine for the purpose.

(3) A like inspection shall be made at least twice in the course of each shift, and at least once in every five hours during which the shift continues, of all parts of the mine which are situated beyond the station or each of the stations aforesaid and in which work-persons have to work or which they have to traverse during the shift, but it shall not be necessary to record the result of such inspections in a book unless the last inspection in a shift is the inspection required to be made under sub-regulation (2).

(4) Except in the case of a mine in which inflammable gas has never been found or is unlikely to be found, the inspection shall be made with a locked safety lamp of a type approved by the Chief Inspector and no other light shall be used during the inspection.

(5) Every report referred to in sub-regulation (2) shall be made by the person inspecting, either when under ground or immediately on his return to the surface, and shall be a full and accurate report of the inspection, specifying whether or not, and where, if anywhere, noxious or inflammable gas was found, and whether or not any and, if any, what defects in roof or sides and other sources of danger were observed. The report shall be signed by the person who made the inspection and shall state the date and time of the inspection and the date and time when the report was written.

(6) The part of a mine or mines assigned to a competent person under this regulation shall not be of such a size, nor shall any duties which may be assigned to him other than his duties under this regulation be such, as to be likely to prevent him from carrying out such last-mentioned duties in a thorough manner. If any question arises whether the part of a mine or mines assigned to any such person is too large or whether the additional duties assigned to him are too great, the decision of the Chief Inspector shall be final.

(7) A competent person or persons appointed by the manager shall inspect all airways and travelling roads leading to second outlets at least once a fortnight, and shall record the result of his inspection in a book kept at the mine for the purpose.

(8) For the purposes of this regulation the period of employment constituting a shift at the mine shall not exceed 24 hours.

71. (1) With effect from the first day of January 1927, no person shall, save as hereinafter provided, be appointed to make any inspection required by regulation 70 unless he—

(i) has within the preceding five years obtained a certificate from an authority and in a form to be prescribed by the Board of Examiners constituted under these regulations to the effect that his powers of eye-sight and hearing are such as to enable him to make the inspection efficiently, and

(ii) holds a manager's or a sirdar's certificate or a manager's permit or is for the time being authorised under sub-regulation (1) of regulation 24 to act as manager of the mine in which the inspection is to be made.

Provided that the holder of a sirdar's certificate shall not be appointed to make any such inspection in a mine in which safety lamps are used or in which inflammable gas is likely to occur, unless his certificate bears an endorsement to the effect that he is competent to test for and detect the presence of inflammable gas.

(2) A fee of one rupee shall be chargeable from every person whose eye-sight and hearing are examined for the purpose of enabling the grant to him of a certificate of adequate eyesight and hearing referred to in clause (i) of sub-regulation (1), unless such examination is made in the course of an examination held under regulation 40.

(3) Where an emergency exists, the manager of a mine may appoint to make the inspection required by regulation 70 any person who, in his opinion, is competent to make such inspection, notwithstanding the fact that such person does not possess the qualifications prescribed in sub-regulation (1):

Provided that such appointment shall not extend over a period exceeding one month;

Provided further that every such appointment and the reasons therefor shall forthwith be reported to the Chief Inspector. The Chief Inspector may cancel any appointment so made, and such cancellation shall be final.

72. (1) If at any time it is found by the person for the time being in charge of a mine or any part thereof that, by reason of inflammable or noxious gases prevailing in the mine or part, or of any cause whatever, the mine or part is dangerous, every workman shall be withdrawn from the mine or part, and a competent person appointed for the purpose shall inspect the mine or part, and in every case shall make a full and accurate report of the condition of the mine or part and no workmen shall, except in so far as is necessary for enquiring into the cause of danger or for the removal thereof or for exploration, be re-admitted into the mine or part, until the same is reported by the person appointed as aforesaid not to be dangerous. Every such report shall be recorded without delay in a paged book, which shall be kept at the mine for the purpose, and shall be dated and signed by the person who made the inspection.

(2) If the danger arises from inflammable gas the inspection shall be made with a locked safety lamp of a type approved by the Chief Inspector.

73. Where any part of a mine is so situated that there is any danger of irruption of surface water into the mine adequate protection against such an irruption shall be provided and maintained.

74. Where any working has approached within 100 feet of any place containing or likely to contain an accumulation of water or other liquid matter, or within 100 feet of disused workings (not being workings which have been examined and found to be free from accumulation of water or other liquid matter) the working shall not exceed eight feet in width or height, and there shall be maintained at least one bore hole near the centre of the working face, and sufficient flank bore holes on each side and, where necessary, bore-holes above and below the working, at intervals of not more than 15 feet. All such bore-holes shall be and shall be constantly maintained at sufficient distance in advance of the working and such distance shall in no case be less than 10 feet.

75. Where work is being done in any seam or part of a seam below another seam or part of a seam containing an accumulation of water, adequate precautions shall be taken against such an irruption of water into the lower seam as would be likely to endanger the lives of the workmen in the mine.

76. (1) No working shall be made within a distance of 25 feet of the boundary of any mine property, or, in the case of disputed boundary, within a distance of 25 feet of the boundary claimed by the owner of an adjacent mine until such time as a binding agreement has been reached as to the correct boundary or the question has been finally determined by a court of law.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-regulation (1) the Chief Inspector may, by order in writing, permit the working of any mine or part of a mine to extend to within any shorter distance than 25 feet of the boundary of the mine, or may require that the working of any mine or part of a mine shall not extend further than any specified distance, not exceeding 50 feet, of such boundary.

(3) The owner of any mine affected or likely to be affected by any order passed by the Chief Inspector under sub-regulation (2) may prefer an appeal to the Mining Board constituted under section 10 of the Act, or, if no Mining Board has been so constituted for the province in which the mine or part of a mine is situated, to the Local Government, and the order of the Mining Board or of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

77. In any mine or part of a mine in which persons have to work or which persons have to traverse, the pillars left to support the roof shall be of such a size as to prevent any such collapse of the workings as would be likely to endanger the lives of the persons in the mine.

78. The extraction of pillars of coal which have been left in the first working of the seam shall be conducted in such a way as to prevent as far as possible a collapse or subsidence of the goaf extending over pillars which have not been extracted. Adequate timber or other supports shall be used where necessary.

79. Where the method of extraction is to remove all the coal, or as much of the coal as is practicable and allow the roof to fall in, operations shall be conducted in such a way as to leave as small an area of uncollapsed roof as possible and, where practicable, means shall be taken to bring down the roof at regular intervals.

80. In any mine in which two or more seams or sections of a seam are in close proximity to each other, the pillars in the one seam or section shall be, as far as practicable and where the strata are not highly inclined, vertically above or below the pillars in the other seam or section. No work in a higher seam or section shall be done over an area in a lower seam or section which may collapse unexpectedly.

81. (1) Reasonable provision shall be made in every mine to prevent—

(a) an outbreak of fire in the mine or the spread of fire to the mine from any mine adjacent to it,

(b) inundation by water from a neighbouring mine, and

(c) the premature collapse of workings,

and to isolate, control or remedy, as the case may require, any such outbreak, inundation or collapse which may occur.

(2) Where, in the opinion of an Inspector, the provision made for the purposes specified in sub-regulation (1) are inadequate, he may require such additional provision as he shall specify to be made.

(3) An appeal in respect of any order passed by an Inspector under sub-regulation(2) may be preferred to the Chief Inspector and the order of the Chief Inspector thereon shall be final.

82. No person shall work in any place other than a place in which he has been ordered to work by an official of the mine or by any person in whose charge he has been placed by an official of the mine.

83. Every person shall examine his own working place before commencing work, and also at intervals during the shift. If any dangerous condition is observed by him he shall either remedy it or immediately leave the place and report the fact to an official of the mine, who shall deal with the matter without delay.

84. No person shall cut coal from any pillar, roof or floor unless specially so authorised by the manager, or other person qualified under the provisions of regulation 71 to make an inspection required by regulation 70.

85. After an explosion of fire-damp or coal dust or an outbreak of fire in a mine only such persons as are authorised by the manager or an official appointed by the manager for the purpose, or, in the absence of the manager or such official, by the principal official of the mine present at the surface, shall be allowed to enter the mine.

86. Where rescue or recovery work is being undertaken in a mine or part of a mine likely to contain an irrespirable atmosphere, no party of less than three shall be allowed to enter.

87. In any mine in which an underground fire exists, whether such fire has been sealed off by means of stoppings of non-inflammable material or not, or in which an explosion of firedamp or coal dust is likely to occur, there shall be kept at the mine constantly available for use two or more small birds or mice for the purpose of testing for carbon monoxide and two or more safety lamps for the purpose of testing for inflammable and other gases:

Provided that the Chief Inspector or an Inspector may require compliance with this regulation in the case of any other mine if he thinks that the circumstances of the mine are such as to require it.

CHAPTER VIII.

HAULAGE.

88. Every haulage road on which the haulage is worked by gravity or mechanical power shall be provided with sufficient manholes for refuge, which shall in no case be placed at intervals of more than 60 feet and which shall not be less than 5 feet in height, 3 feet in width, and 4 feet in depth. Where the inclination is more than 1 in 6 the manholes shall be at intervals of not more than 30 feet. Every manhole shall be kept clean and nothing shall be placed across the entrance thereto so as to impede ingress:

Provided that in any case in which an Inspector considers that there are difficulties which make the provision of a manhole at the above specified intervals or of the above specified dimensions not reasonably practicable, he may, by order in writing, specify a greater interval or reduced dimensions.

89. Every haulage road exceeding 100 feet in length on which the haulage is worked by gravity or mechanical power, shall be provided with proper means of communicating distinct and definite signals from all regular stopping places to the place or places at which the persons who control the haulage machinery are stationed:

Provided that the Chief Inspector may, at his discretion and by order in writing, require that there shall be means of communicating signals in the reverse direction also.

The first four or principal signals shall be—

Three raps	... ...	START when at rest.
One rap	... ...	STOP when in motion.
Two raps	... ...	LOWER SLOWLY or HAUL IN SLOWLY.
Four raps	... ...	RAISE SLOWLY or HAUL OUT SLOWLY.

Any other signals shall be in addition to and shall not interfere with the foregoing:

Provided that the Chief Inspector by order in writing may, at his discretion, permit the use of a different code of haulage signals.

90. A printed copy of the code of haulage signals shall be kept posted at the brake-wheel or haulage engine, and at both ends of the haulage road and at every signalling station.

91. The signal handle or attachment at every stopping place on any haulage or self-acting incline shall be placed in such a position as will enable the person operating the signals to be safe in the case of a runaway tub or tubs on the incline.

92. At the top of every incline on which the haulage, not being endless rope or endless chain haulage, is worked by mechanical power or gravity there shall be stop-blocks or other similar contrivances to prevent tubs from running away. Additional stop-blocks or runaway switches, or some other appliance for arresting the descent of tubs in the event of a runaway, shall be fixed below the first stop-blocks at a greater distance than the length of a train of tubs. There shall also be provided and attached behind the ascending tub or train of tubs a back-stay, drag or other suitable contrivance for preventing the tub or tubs from running back.

93. No person shall permit a tub or tubs to run uncontrolled except with the consent of the manager:

Provided that the Chief Inspector may, by order in writing, prohibit the uncontrolled movement of tubs at any place where, in his opinion, there would be danger of injury to persons.

94. Where haulage is effected by means of an endless rope or chain, automatic catches shall be fixed at such points on the haulage road as may be necessary to prevent tubs from running away.

95. No person shall ride on any tub, truck or wagon, either under ground or above ground, except with the written permission of the manager.

96. Where the Chief Inspector so requires, travelling roads, separate from the haulage roads, shall be provided to and from the working places.

CHAPTER IX.

EXPLOSIVES.

97. No owner, agent or manager shall store, or knowingly allow any other person to store, within the premises of the mine, any explosives otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of rules made under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884.

98. No explosive shall be stored in the workings of a mine or taken into or kept in a dwelling house.

99. No explosive shall be used in a mine except that provided by the manager.

100. The manager shall appoint in writing a competent person or persons to be in charge of every magazine for the storage of explosives, and no person shall be in charge of a magazine without such written authority.

101. Explosives shall be issued only to competent persons appointed in writing by the manager, and no unauthorised person shall have explosives in his possession.

102. Gunpowder shall not be issued for use in blasting operations in a mine or used in a mine, except in the form of cartridges.

103. Explosives unused and left over at the end of a shift shall be returned to the magazine immediately after the end of the shift. Such returned explosives shall be re-issued before fresh stock is used.

104. The person in charge of a magazine shall keep a correct record of the quantity of gunpowder and of the numbers of cartridges of other kinds of explosives and of detonators issued from the magazine to each authorised person, and a similar record of explosives returned to the magazine.

105. The preparation of cartridges from loose gunpowder, the drying of gunpowder, and the re-construction of damp cartridges shall be carried out only by a competent person or persons appointed in writing by the manager for the purpose, and only in accordance with the conditions laid down in rules made under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and in a place approved by the licensing authority.

106. No explosive shall be taken into a mine except in secure closed cases or canisters, containing not more than five pounds each, and no person shall have in use or keep for use, at one time in any one place, more than one such case or canister The place, in the mine at which any such case or canister is in use, or is kept for use, shall, unless solid ground directly intervenes, not be less than 30 feet from a place at which any other such case or canister is in use or kept for use:

Provided that the Chief Inspector may, in special cases by order in writing, permit, subject to such limitations as he may prescribe, the use at one time in one place of more than one such case or canister.

107. Every charge shall be placed in a properly drilled and placed shot hole and shall have sufficient stemming. A sufficient supply of clay or other suitable stemming material shall be provided at places convenient to the shot firers.

108. No shots shall be stemmed or fired save by, or under the personal direction of, a competent person appointed by the manager, by an order in writing, for the purpose.

100. Any person so authorised, when about to fire a shot, shall give sufficient warning to all persons likely to be endangered by the same.

110. When two working places have approached to within 10 feet of one another, no blasting shall be done in any one of such workings unless the workmen have been withdrawn from the other working, and the same has been fenced.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this regulation, any place to which workmen have lawful access shall be deemed to be a working place.

111. In the process of charging or stemming for blasting, no person shall use or have in his possession any iron or steel pricker, scraper, tamping rod, or stemmer, and only clay or other non-inflammable substance shall be used for tamping or stemming.

112. When a hole has been charged, the explosive shall not be unrammed, and no hole shall be bored at a distance of less than 12 inches from any hole where a charge has misfired.

113. Detonators shall be kept in a securely locked box separate from any other explosive and no detonator shall be inserted into the priming cartridge until immediately before it is to be used :

Provided that in the case of a wet working, priming cartridges may be prepared at the nearest convenient dry place adjacent to the working.

114. No explosive shall be forcibly pressed into a hole of insufficient size.

115. In any place in which the use of a locked safety lamp is for the time being required by or in pursuance of these regulations, or which is dry and dusty, the shot firer shall not fire a shot or allow a shot to be fired until he has examined both the place itself, where the shot is to be fired, and all contiguous accessible places within a radius of 60 feet, and has found such place safe for firing.

116. If in any mine inflammable gas has within the previous twelve months been reported to be present no shot shall be fired unless the explosive is one of the "Permitted Explosives" allowed to be used by any order under the Coal Mines Act, 1911. [1 & 2 Geo. 5, ch. 50.]

117. After a shot has been fired the person who fired the shot or a competent person appointed in writing by the manager of the mine shall, before any other person enters the place, make a careful examination and with his assistants make the place safe. No other person shall enter the place until the examination has been made and the place has been declared to be safe in all respects.

118. When a shot has misfired, the entrance to the firing place shall be fenced, and no person shall go beyond the fence until the expiration of one hour from the time of firing; but when the shot has been fired by means of an electric apparatus, this intervals may be reduced to such time, not being less than ten minutes after the cable has been disconnected from the firing battery, as the manager of the mine may in each case direct.

119. When a shot has misfired, the official or other competent person in charge of the explosive at the time of the misfire shall report the failure to the manager or under-manager, who shall record the fact in a book to be kept for the purpose ; and such official or other competent person shall give information of the failure to such person as may relieve or take over charge from him.

120. When a misfired charge of explosive has been blasted out, a careful search for cartridges and detonators, if any, shall be made amongst the debris, and, if not located underground, the tubs into which the debris is loaded shall be marked and a further search made on the surface.

CHAPTER X.

VENTILATION AND LIGHTING.

121. An adequate amount of ventilation shall be constantly produced in every mine to clear away smoke and to dilute and render harmless inflammable and noxious gases to such an extent that the working places of the shafts, levels and workings of the mine and the travelling roads to and from these working places, shall be in a safe state for persons working or passing therein.

122. In every mine in which inflammable gas has been found within the previous twelve months or where workings have been walled off on account of fire, the quantity of air in the main air currents or splits shall, at least once in every month, be measured and entered in a book kept at the mine for the purpose.

123. No lamp or light other than a locked safety lamp of a type approved by the Chief Inspector shall be allowed or used—

(a) in any place in a mine in which there is or is likely to be any such quantity of inflammable gas as to render the use of naked lights dangerous, or

(b) in any working approaching near a place in which there is likely to be an accumulation of inflammable gas or

(c) in any seam in which an explosion or ignition of inflammable gas has occurred within the previous twelve months :

Provided that in the case of any mine an exemption may be given by the Chief Inspector on the ground that on account of the special character of the mine, the use of safety lamps is not required.

124. In every mine in which inflammable gas has been found during the previous twelve months, safety lamps shall be used as a precautionary measure in all galleries driven in advance of the ordinary galleries.

125. Where the use of safety lamps has been introduced in any part of a ventilating district, naked lights shall not be used in any other part of the same ventilating district situated between the place where such lamps are used and the return airway, except where the use of safety lamps in that part of the district has been introduced as a precautionary measure, and the conditions are not such as to render necessary the introduction of the use of safety lamps throughout the district.

126. All safety lamps in ordinary use shall be numbered and such record shall be kept of the persons to whom the lamps are issued that the user of any particular lamp can at any time be identified from the record.

127. In every mine or part of a mine in which the use of safety lamps is for the time being required by or in pursuance of these regulations, the following provisions shall have effect, namely :—

(a) A competent person shall be appointed by the manager to clean, trim, examine and lock securely all such lamps before they are taken into the workings for use, and such lamps shall not be used until they have been so examined and found to be in safe working order and securely locked.

(b) The banksman or other competent person appointed by the manager for the purpose shall examine every safety lamp at the surface immediately before it is taken underground for use and shall assure himself as far as practicable from external observation that each lamp is in safe working order and securely locked.

(c) No safety lamp shall be unlocked except at the appointed lamp station.

(d) No person, unless he has been authorised in writing by the manager either for the purpose of examining or relighting safety lamps, shall have in his possession any contrivance for opening the lock of a safety lamp.

(e) No person shall have in his possession any unlocked safety lamp, naked light, match, smoking apparatus or any apparatus of any kind for striking a light except within a completely closed chamber attached to the fuse of a shot ; and if it appears to any person that any safety lamp in his possession is defective or insecure he shall at once remove it from the mine and return it to the person authorised to issue safety lamps.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this regulation the term " manager " includes an under-manager and any person for the time being carrying on the duties of the manager.

128. Where the use of safety lamps is for the time being required by or in pursuance of these regulations, one or more lamp stations for lighting or relighting the lamps shall be fixed by the manager at the entrance to the mine or part of the mine, as the case may require. No such lamp station shall be in a return airway. Every such lamp station shall be in charge of a person authorised in writing by the manager.

129. No person other than a person authorised by the manager to examine and lock safety lamp shall either himself take or give out for use any safety lamp.

130. No person shall wilfully damage, or improperly use, or by improper means extinguish, any safety lamp, and no one except a person duly authorised by the manager in that behalf shall unlock or open or attempt to unlock or open any safety lamp.

131. Any person discovering the presence of inflammable gas in his working place shall immediately withdraw therefrom and inform the sirdar, overman or manager.

132. In any underground part of a mine where adequate stationary lights are not in use, every person shall carry a light.

133. No person shall leave a light or fire in any underground part of a mine unless and until he has placed it in charge of some person remaining therein.

134. Every person after passing through a door or brattice-cloth shall at once close it.

135. No person shall wilfully kindle a " feeder " or an accumulation of gas.

136. After the 1st day of July, 1927, or such later date, as the Chief Inspector may fix for any mine in view of the special circumstances thereof, there shall, in every mine in which a mechanical contrivance for ventilation is used, be provided and maintained, in a condition to be put into immediate operation, adequate means for reversing the air current.

CHAPTER XI.

FENCING and GATES.

137. (1) Every entrance to a mine from the surface, and the top and all entrances between the top and the bottom, including the sump (if any) of every working, ventilating, or pumping shaft, and the top of every open excavation, shall be kept properly fenced :

Provided that any fence may be temporarily removed for the purpose of repairs or other operations, if proper precautions are used.

(2) Shafts and quarries temporarily or permanently out of use and any place in or about an excavation which is dangerous shall be kept properly fenced.

138. (1) Every entrance in a mine from the surface, by which the mine can be entered on foot, if it is regularly used as a travelling or haulage road, shall be provided with a gate, which shall be kept closed and locked when there are no persons underground in the mine, and shall be so constructed as to prevent effectually, when closed, the entrance of persons into the mine.

(2) Every entrance to a mine from the surface, by which the mine can be entered on foot, if it is not regularly used as a travelling or haulage road, shall be permanently closed or kept properly fenced, across the whole width of the entrance.

(3) Gates and fences at entrances to mines shall be so constructed as not to prevent egress in case of emergency.

139. Every entrance to any place in a mine which is not in actual use or course of working or extension, shall be kept properly fenced across the whole width of the entrance, and every such fence shall be so constructed as effectually to prevent persons from entering such place inadvertently.

140. (1) Where any place in a mine is found to be dangerous, all approaches to the place shall be kept securely fenced off so that it cannot be entered inadvertently.

(2) Where it is necessary to prevent danger to the public, every tank or reservoir shall be securely fenced.

141. Every fly-wheel and all exposed and dangerous parts of the machinery of whatever kind used in or about a mine shall be kept securely fenced, guarded or cased in such a manner as may be necessary to prevent accident.

CHAPTER XII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

142. If any person in charge of any machinery, apparatus or appliance used in or about a mine, observes any defect or dangerous flaw therein, he shall immediately report the fact to the manager, under-manager or enginewright, or other responsible official.

143. Every person shall strictly comply with all lawful orders issued by the manager or such other official as may be empowered by the manager to issue the same.

144. No person who has been appointed by the manager in writing for a specific duty shall depute another person to do his work without the sanction of the official to whom he is subordinate; and no such person shall absent himself without having previously obtained permission from such official for the term of his absence or without having been relieved by another person appointed as aforesaid.

145. No person who has been appointed in writing by the manager for a specific duty shall sleep whilst on duty.

147. No person shall damage, destroy or improperly interfere with anything provided for or used in the working of the mine.

148. No person shall remove or pass through any fence, or remove or pass any danger-signal, unless specially so authorised by the manager or an officer empowered by the manager in that behalf.

149. A competent person or persons appointed by the manager for the purpose shall keep a correct record of the number of persons going underground daily and returning from underground daily and, if required by the manager, every person shall immediately before going underground and after returning from underground record his presence in accordance with any system approved for the mine by the Chief Inspector or an Inspector :

Provided that this regulation shall not apply in the case of any person appointed to carry out duties of superintendence, management or control.

150. When wagons are about to be moved, persons likely to be endangered shall be warned by the persons in charge of the work.

151. The movement of railway wagons by gravity or manual power shall only be carried on under the direct supervision of a responsible male person who shall either himself control the brake or depute a competent person to do so. Where more wagons than one are being moved at the same time the wagons shall be coupled together. Persons employed in moving wagons shall do so only by pushing from behind the last wagon.

152. If any person required by these regulations or by any rule or bye-law to make any report is unable to write, he shall be present when his report is written for him, and shall have it read over to him, and shall attach his thumb-mark to it. The person writing the report shall also sign his name at the end together with a statement that it has been read over to the person for whom it was written.

They shall also show the boundaries of the underground leasehold, where possible, and all important surface features within the boundaries such as railways, roads, rivers, streams and reservoirs which overlie any part of the workings or any point within 600 feet of any part of the mine workings ; also the general strike of the veins or mineral deposits, with their dips at different points, and the dislocations of the strata.

17. The owner, agent or manager of every mine shall, at any time on the request of the Chief Inspector or of any Inspector, produce to him at the office at the mine such plans and sections, and also, on the like request, mark on such plans and sections the then state of the workings of the mine ; and the Chief Inspector or Inspector shall be entitled to examine the plans and the sections, and for official purposes to make or have a copy made of any part thereof respectively.

18. Where any mine or any considerable part of a mine is abandoned, or the working thereof has been discontinued over a period exceeding one year, the person who was the owner of the mine at the time of the abandonment or discontinuance shall, within three months after the abandonment or within fifteen months after the discontinuance of working, as the case may be, send to the Chief Inspector accurate plans and sections of the workings of the mine up to the time of the abandonment or discontinuance, or a true and accurate copy of the same:

Provided that if a change of ownership occurs after the abandonment or discontinuance and before the expiry of the three months or the fifteen months aforesaid, as the case may be, such plans and sections shall be sent forthwith.

19. After the expiry of ten years from the date of abandonment or discontinuance of working in any mine or in any considerable part of a mine, or, where the consent of the owner of the mine for the time being has been obtained, prior to the expiry of the said period, the Chief Inspector may, on such conditions as he thinks fit to impose, permit any person having interest in the said mine or part of a mine to inspect the plan or section of such mine or part of a mine sent to him in accordance with the provisions of regulation 18; and he may further, on such conditions as he thinks fit to impose, supply to any such person copies of the like plan or section.

CHAPTER III.

MANAGEMENT.

20. For every mine a book, to be called the Inspection Book, shall be kept in which Inspectors may record their observations. The owner, agent or manager shall write or cause to be written at the commencement of the book—

(c) the name and address of the manager of the mine.

21. (1) The owner or agent of a mine shall appoint a competent person of not less than 21 years of age to be manager of the mine. If any question arises whether any person so appointed is competent to perform the duties of manager, the decision of the Chief Inspector shall be final.

(2) One person may be appointed manager of more mines than one, provided that the size of such mines and the distance between them is not so great as to preclude the proper and thorough performance by such manager of his duties in respect of each such mine. The decision of the Chief Inspector shall be final on any question arising out of this regulation.

(3) Where by reason of absence or for any other reason the manager is unable to perform the duties required of him by the Act, regulations, rules and bye-laws, the owner, agent or manager shall authorise in writing a person, whom he considers competent, to act as manager of the mine:

Provided that—

(a) no such authority shall have effect for a period in excess of one month;

(b) the owner, agent or manager, as the case may be, shall send to the Chief Inspector with the least possible delay, a written notice intimating that such an authorisation has been made, and stating the reason for the authorisation, the qualifications and experience of the person authorised and the dates of the commencement and ending of the authorisation; and

(c) the Chief Inspector may by order in writing revoke any authority so granted and such order shall be final.

(4) No person shall be appointed to carry out the inspection required by regulation 43 unless he has attained the age of 21 years and has had sufficient practical experience of the working of mines. If any question arises whether the person so appointed is competent to carry out the duties required of him, the decision of the Chief Inspector shall be final.

CHAPTER IV.

SHAFTS AND OUTLETS.

22. Where any part of a mine is so situated that there is any danger whatever of an irruption of surface water into the mine adequate protection against such an irruption shall be provided and maintained.

23. (1) At every mine where more than 20 person are employed underground, or where in the opinion of the Chief Inspector it is necessary, there shall be at least two shafts or outlets, not nearer to one another than 20 feet, affording separate means of ingress and egress available to all the persons employed in the mine.

(2) Proper arrangements shall be made for persons to descend to, and ascend from, the mine at each of such shafts, or outlets. If apparatus is necessary, it shall be kept on the works belonging to the mine and shall be constantly available for use.

(3) The foregoing provisions of this regulation with respect to shafts and outlets shall not apply—

(i) while a shaft is being sunk or an outlet is being made;
(ii) to any working for the purpose of making a communication between two or more shafts or outlets.

(4) The Chief Inspector may exempt from the operation of this regulation, subject to such conditions as he may think fit to impose, any mine in the case of which special difficulties exist which in his opinion make compliance with the provisions of this regulation not reasonably practicable.

CHAPTER V.

The rope shall be securely fastened to the drum, and there shall be at least two turns of the rope on the drum when the cage, skip, bucket or box is at the bottom of the shaft.

(j) Every cage shall be provided with catches or some other suitable contrivance to prevent tubs from falling out, and shall, if used for lowering or raising persons, be covered in completely at the top and closed in at the two sides in a manner sufficient to prevent persons or things from projecting beyond the sides, and shall be provided with suitable gates or other rigid fences and with a rigid hand bar fixed in a position where it can be easily reached by all persons in the cage.

(k) The manager, or a competent person or persons appointed by the manager for the purpose shall, once at least in every 24 hours, examine the state of the external parts of the machinery and of the head-gear, ropes, chains, cages, guides, and conductors in the shafts and other similar appliances of the mine which are in actual use, both under ground and above ground, and, if more than 20 persons are employed in the mine simultaneously, shall without delay write or cause to be written a full and accurate report of the result of such examination. Every such report shall be recorded in a paged book to be kept at the mine for the purpose, and shall be signed and dated by the person who made the examination.

25. No person shall get on or off a cage, skip, tub or bucket used for lowering or raising persons after the same has been set in motion, or leave it until it has reached the appointed stopping place ; nor shall any person ride on the top or edge of any cage, skip, bucket or box except when engaged upon work in the shaft.

26. No person, when ascending or descending a shaft, shall take with him any tools or other bulky materials, save when engaged in repairing the shaft or when otherwise specially authorised by the manager :

When the winding apparatus is not provided with some automatic contrivance to prevent overwinding, a point shall be fixed and marked on the indicator in such a way as to show when the cage or other conveyance is within a distance of twice the circumference of the drum from the completion of the wind ; and when such cage or conveyance has reached such distance it shall not, if either it or the descending cage contains persons, be raised for the remaining distance at a speed exceeding three miles per hour.

34. In shafts exceeding 300 feet in depth, where persons are raised or lowered by machinery, suitable devices shall be fitted if, in the opinion of the Chief Inspector, such are required to provide against the overwinding of cages, skips or other conveyances or to safeguard persons liable to be injured in the case of an overwind.

35. At the top of every incline on which the haulage, not being endless rope or endless chain haulage, is worked by mechanical power or gravity there shall be stop-blocks or other similar contrivances to prevent wagons from running away. Additional stop-blocks or runaway switches, or some other appliance for arresting or diverting the descent of wagons in the event of a runaway, shall be fixed below the first stop-blocks at a greater distance than the length of a train of wagons. There shall also be provided and attached behind the ascending wagon or train of wagons a backstay, drag or other suitable contrivance for preventing the wagon or wagons from running back.

46. The top and all entrances between the top and bottom of shafts, winzes, shoots or sliding holes and any openings into a stope more than 10 feet deep below a drive and other dangerous openings shall be provided with a permanent or removable barrier in order to prevent persons or things from falling into them. When a shaft, winze, rise or stope leads directly into a travelling road or place where persons are stationed at work, the traffic at such points shall be protected against danger from anything falling from above.

47. At every shaft station where it is necessary for persons to pass from one side of the shaft to the other, provision shall be made enabling them to do so without entering or crossing a winding compartment.

Where any working is approaching any place containing or likely to conain a dangerous accumulation of water, the working shall not exceed 6 feet in width or htight, and bore-holes shall be constantly kept at such a distance in advance of the face aned at such angles from the working as is necessary to obviate the danger of a sudden breaking through of such water.

50. An adequate amount of ventilation shall be constantly produced in every mine to clear away smoke and to dilute and render harmless inflammable and noxious gases to such an extent that the working places of the shafts, levels, and working of the mine, and the travelling roads to and from these working places shall be in a safe state for persons working or passing therein.

51. Underground workings and shafts, sumps and winzes which have been in disuse for some time shall be examined before again being used in order to ascertain whether foul air or other dangerous gases have accumulated therein and also to ascertain the condition of the roof and sides ; and only such workmen as may be necessary to make such examination shall be allowed to proceed to such places until such places are certified to be in a safe state to work and travel in.

52. In any underground part of a mine where adequate stationary lights are not in use, every person shall carry a light.

53. No person shall work in any place other than a place in which he has been ordered to work by an official of the mine or by any person in whose charge he has been placed by an official of the mine.

CHAPTER VII.

LADDERWAYS.

54. In ladder-shafts making an angle of 25 degrees or less with the vertical platforms shall be provided at intervals not exceeding 35 feet. Ladders shall be placed so as to cover the openings in the platforms. Provided that in scase where timber and supplies are handled, a portion of this opening may be to one side of the ladder and in the opposite corner of the platform. Except in respect of the lowest 30 feet of a sinking shaft, ladders shall be fixed at an inclination of not less than one foot horizontal for every 10 feet vertical : provided that where exceptional circumstances require they may, with the consent of an Inspector, be fixed at a steeper inclination.

55. In ladder-shafts where the slope is less than 65 degrees and more than 30 degrees with the horizontal, platforms shall be placed at intervals of not more than 55 feet along the underlie or slope of the shaft.

56. All platforms shall be securely fenced.

57. All ladders shall be securely fastened to the sides of timbering of the shaft.

CHAPTER VIII.

EXPLOSIVES.

62. The explosives provided for use in the mine shall be of good quality and, as far as can be practically known, in good condition, and only detonators of one strength and of sufficient power for every class of explosive used shall be kept for use in the same mine.

63. Explosives shall not be taken into or kept in a dwelling house, but only in a properly constructed magazine.

64. (1) Explosives shall not be stored underground in a mine except with the approval of an Inspector in writing, and in a magazine or magazines duly licensed in accordance with the provisions of rules made under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884.

(2) The manager shall appoint in writing a competent person or competent persons to be in charge of every magazine for the storage of explosives, and no person shall be in charge of a magazine without such written authority.

(3) Explosives shall be issued only to competent persons appointed by the manager or underground manager or foreman, and no unauthorised person shall have explosives in his possession. The names of such competent persons shall be registered in a book to be kept for the purpose.

(4) The person in charge of a magazine shall keep a correct record of the quantity of gunpowder and of the numbers of cartridges of other kinds of explosives and of detonators issued from the magazine to each authorized person, and a similar record of explosives returned to the magazine.

65. Underground magazines shall be placed at a sufficient distance from one another and from any portion of the mine, in which work is going on or which is used as a travelling road, to prevent the risk of injury to any person in the event of the explosion of the maximum amount of explosive stored.

66. The quantity of explosive which may be stored in an underground magazine shall not exceed the supply required for two working days in the mine in which the magazine is situated.

67. Detonators shall be kept in a securely locked box separate from any other explosive and no detonator shall be inserted into a priming cartridge until immediately before it is to be used :

Provided that, in the case of a wet working, priming cartridges may be prepared at the nearest convenient dry place adjacent to the working.

68. Every precaution shall be adopted to prevent the explosion or ignition of explosives stored in an underground magazine. The Chief Inspector may prescribe precautions to be adopted in addition to those required by the terms of the explosives licence.

69. No naked light shall be taken into an underground magazine or store.

70. Explosives shall not be sent down in the cage, skip or bucket unless there is a distinguishing mark attached to the cage, skip or bucket, or they are accompanied by a shot-firer or responsible person.

71. All blasting operations shall be conducted by or under the personal direction of duly competent persons, not less than 18 years of age, appointed by the manager, underground manager or foreman. The names of these persons shall be registered in a book to be kept for the purpose.

72. The number of shots fired, the quantity of explosives used and the number of shots (if any) which have misfired shall be recorded daily in a book to be kept for the purpose.

73. All unused explosives shall be returned to the magazine without delay. Such returned explosives shall be re-issued before fresh stock is used.

74. No explosives shall be taken into a mine except in a secure case, canister or bag containing not more than five pounds each, and a person shall not have in use or keep for use, at one time in any one place within the mine, more than one such case, canister or bag. The place in the mine at which any such case, canister or bag is in use, or is kept for use, shall, unless solid ground directly intervenes, not be less than thirty feet from a place at which any other such case, canister or bag is in use or kept for use :

Provided that the Chief Inspector may, in special cases and by order in writing, permit, subject to such limitations as he may prescribe, the use at one time in one place of more than one of such cases, canisters or bags :

Provided further that nothing in this regulation shall prohibit the conveyance of larger quantities of explosives for supplying an underground magazine.

75. When explosives are being carried on a ladder, each case, canister or bag shall be securely fastened to the person carrying it.

76. In the process of charging or stemming a hole no person shall use an iron or steel tool, scraper or tamping rod, nor shall he use undue force in pressing the explosive into the hole or strike it when at the bottom of the hole.

77. In any underground working place only those holes which are to be fired in the next round shall be charged, and the fuses in all holes which have been charged shall be ignited or detonated together.

78. Before a shot is fired in an underground working place due warning shall be given to persons in the vicinity, and every entrance to the place where a shot is about to be fired shall be guarded so as to prevent any person, not having received warning, from placing himself in dangerous proximity to the shot.

79. (1) When two underground working places have approached to within 10 feet of one another, no blasting shall be done in any one of such workings unless the workmen have been withdrawn from the other working, and the same has been fenced.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this sub-regulation any place to which workmen have lawful access shall be deemed to be a working place.

(2) In open workings blasting shall not be commenced until such warning as will prevent danger to the persons working in the mine and in its vicinity has been given by an efficient system of signals or by other means arranged by the manager. Notice shall similarly be given as soon as blasting is finished.

80. When shots are fired, the number of reports shall be counted by at least two persons. The lowest count shall be taken to be correct. Unless it is certain that all the shots have exploded, no person shall re-enter such working place until 30 minutes after blasting, unless the shot has been fired by electrical means when this interval may be reduced to not less than ten minutes after the source of the electricity has been disconnected from the cable, and the place becomes clear of fumes. If the charge is known to have burnt away without exploding, no person shall re-enter the working place for an hour.

81. After a shot has been fired in an underground working place, the person who fired the shot or a competent person appointed in writing by the manager of the mine shall, before any other person enters the place, make a careful examination and with his assistants make the place safe. No other person shall enter the place until the examination has been made and the place has been declared to be safe in all respects.

82. No person shall bore out a hole that has once been charged or attempt to withdraw a charge either before firing or after a misfire, or deepen or tamper with empty holes or sockets left after blasting.

83. When a misfire occurs, a portion of the tamping may be sludged out with compressed air or water under pressure, but no kind of tool shall be used for this purpose. The hole shall thereafter be reprimed and fired.

84. No person shall drill or cause or permit to be drilled any hole within 12 inches of a misfired hole, and care shall be taken to drill the new hole in such a direction that there is no danger of touching the unexploded charge. The new hole shall be bored in the presence of an authorised shot-firer, and he shall be present during operations undertaken for the removal of debris lying within six feet of the misfired hole. A careful search amongst the debris shall be made for cartridges and detonators, if any.

85. If a place where a misfire has occurred is temporarily vacated, a man shall be posted to warn all persons in the neighbourhood of the fact, or the place shall be fenced so as to prevent access. In open workings it will be sufficient to mark the place of misfire with a red flag.

CHAPTER IX.

MISCELLANEOUS.

86. (1) Every flywheel and all exposed and dangerous parts of the machinery used in and about a mine shall be kept securely fenced.

(2) Where it is necessary to prevent danger to the public, every tank or reservoir shall be securely fenced.

87. Efficient guards shall be provided for such parts of any machinery and any electrical conductors as may be a source of danger.

88. If any person, when in charge of any machinery, apparatus or appliance used in or about a mine, observes any defect or dangerous flaw therein, he shall immediately report the fact to the manager, under-manager or enginewright.

89. Every person shall strictly comply with all lawful orders issued by the manager or such other official as may be empowered by the manager to issue the same.

90. No person occupying any position of trust in or about a mine shall depute another person to do his work without the sanction of the official to whom he is subordinate; and no such person shall absent himself without having previously obtained permission from such official for the term of his absence or without having been relieved by a competent person.

91. No person shall negligently or wilfully do anything likely to endanger life or limb in the mine, or negligently or wilfully omit to do anything necessary for the safety of the mine or the persons employed therein.

92. No person shall damage, destroy or improperly interfere with anything provided for or used in the working of the mine.

93. No person shall remove or pass through any fence, or remove or pass any danger-signal unless so specially authorised by the manager or an official empowered by the manager in that behalf.

94. No person occupying any position of trust in or about a mine shall sleep whilst on duty.

95. If any person required by these regulations or by any rule or bye-law made under the Act to make any report is unable to write, he shall be present when his report is written for him, and shall have it read over to him, and shall attach his thumb mark to it. The person writing the report shall also sign his name at the end together with a statement that it has been read over to the person for whom it was written.

96. Whenever the circumstances at any mine or part of a mine are such as to render any provision of these regulations not reasonably applicable to such mine or part of such mine, the Chief Inspector may, at his direction, grant exemption from such provision under such conditions as he may think fit.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bengal, 1926.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1924-25, the area under jute in Bengal, to which this forecast relates, represents some 84·9 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Season.—Early weather conditions were favourable on the whole although the drought in May had delayed completion of sowings in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. Scanty rainfall in June, and insect attack, further compromised the chances of the crop in this tract. The insects had also done damage in Pabna and Bogra. Elsewhere the crop has progressed normally and in East Bengal the only drawback has been a temporary lack of steeping water. Abundant rain remedied this difficulty, but the fall of the rivers may reproduce it.

Condition of the Crop.—The area under jute is 3,170,554, or say, 3,170,000 acres, as against 2,715,500 acres (revised) last year. Since the preliminary forecast, Nadia, Murshidabad, Noakhali and Malda have increased their jute area, while Burdwan Midnapore, Howrah, Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling have slightly reduced theirs.

Outturn.—As in former years, the percentage figures are calculated on the basis of divisional normals which remain as follows:—

Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, 3·7 bales per acre;

Rajshahi Division, 3·5 bales per acre;

Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, 3·2 bales per acre.

The total outturn of the crop is estimated at 9,621,600 bales of 400 lbs., as against 8,020,700 bales (revised) last year, an increase of 1,600,900 bales.

APPENDIX I.

Final forecast of the jute crop of Bengal, 1926.

District.	Estimated area under jute.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Estimated total yield in bales of 400 lbs.		Date by which harvesting generally commenced and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
	Last year.	This year.	Last year.	This year.	Last year.	This year.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Acres.	Acres.			Bales.	Bales.
24-Parganas ..	61,700	71,700	89	67	182,200	154,000	First week of September. Late.	The lower percentage of normal yield this year is due to the crop being affected by drought at the early stage and later on by semilooper.
Nadia ..	76,700	91,226	80	82	212,000	240,000	Last week of August. Normal.	The increase in area is due to revision of estimates after careful enquiry. Paucity and unequal distribution of rain and consequent damage by insect pests for some time when the plants were tender affected the outturn in places.
Murshidabad ..	26,100	38,565	75	66	67,000	82,000	End of August. Normal.	The low percentage of outturn is due to the damage done by insect pests.
Jessore ..	107,400	124,000	90	70	335,000	275,000	Ditto ..	The low yield is due to damage caused by insect pests and drought in May and June.
Khulna ..	30,000	45,000	100	100	93,000	144,000	End of August. Normal.	....
Burdwan ..	8,700	4,459	95	77	12,000	11,000	First week of September. Normal.	The decrease in area compared with the preliminary forecast is due to damage caused by drought and insect pest.
Midnapore ..	9,700	10,000	60	78	20,000	25,000	Lowlands—End of August. Normal. Highlands—End of September. Late.	The increase in area is due to high price of the fibre last year and to favourable rain at sowing time. The decrease in outturn is due to the damage caused by insects, heavy downpours and lately by floods in several thanas.
Hooghly ..	23,400	32,184	106·25	51	86,000	52,000	Middle of August. Normal.	Severe and continued drought during the early stages of the crop, insect pests, and heavy continuous rainfall in July affected the outturn adversely, particularly the lowland crops.
Howrah ..	7,400	14,128	80	89	20,000	40,000	End of August. Rather late.	....
Rajshahi ..	108,000	119,000	83	96	324,000	357,000	End of July and beginning of August. Late.	The weather was not altogether favourable. More rain was needed. The damage caused to the young plants by semilooper caterpillars is estimated at about 25 per cent.
Dinajpur ..	65,900	78,700	80	84	200,000	231,000	By the middle of August. Normal.	The crop suffered to some extent owing to insufficient rainfall in the latter part of the growing period.
Jalpaiguri ..	42,400	56,000	80	91	128,000	168,000	Normal ..	The reduction in acreage compared with the preliminary forecast is due to correction in the light of returns received late from the unions for which a figure was assumed in compiling the first forecast. Conditions throughout have been favourable. In some parts of the Sadar subdivision the recent drought has been unfavourable to steeping but over too small an area to affect the general prospects for the district.
Darjeeling ..	2,400	2,682	80	87	7,000	8,000	Middle of August. Normal.	....
Rangpur ..	286,200	332,200	75	94	815,000	1,090,000	August. Normal ..	The weather was favourable.
Bogra ..	84,600	96,600	75	80	261,000	276,000	End of June ..	The low outturn is due to absence of rain, at the beginning of the season, which retarded the growth of the crop.

Malda ..	30,000	46,000	82·5	62	87,000	100,000	Middle of July. Late.	The crop is stunted over considerable areas for want of rain.
Dacca ..	313,700	357,600	81·8	81	1,020,000	1,074,000	July	The crop was affected by drought in parts of Sadar North subdivision and by hail in parts of Manikganj.

Faridpur ..	252,800	293,000	89·2	94	905,000	1,017,000	Middle of July. Normal.	The damage anticipated at the time of the preliminary forecast was counteracted to a great extent by favourable weather conditions since. The outturn is therefore up to the average.
Bakarganj ..	41,700	58,600	88·35	97	147,000	210,000	Latter part of July. A little late.	The crop was on the whole fair excepting in the lowlying tracts.

Tippera ..	321,500	330,400	71·2	78	930,000	965,000	Latter part of July. Normal.	The outturn is below the normal owing to damage by drought in May. Hailstorm in Chandpur is also partly responsible for this.
Noakhali ..	52,700	67,505	87	78	184,000	195,000	July and August. Normal.

Cooch Behar State	31,000	40,644	80	74	70,000	105,000	End of June to beginning of August. Normal.	The crop grew well everywhere and the outturn would have been quite 100 per cent. had it not been for the excessive drought in August.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1926.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1924-25, the area under jute, to which the Bihar and Orissa forecast relates, represents about 8·6 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Acreage.—The final district returns of the seven jute growing districts of the province show an area under jute of 280,400 acres, as against the finally revised figure of 263,200 acres last year. There have been increases in area in all the districts except Balasore, which are attributed to high prices obtained last year. Last year's area has since been revised.

Weather conditions.—In March light rain fell in the jute districts; the fall was above the normal everywhere except Muzaffarpur, where it was below the normal. In April the fall was below the normal everywhere except in Bhagalpur and the Santal Parganas, and in May and June the rainfall was below the normal everywhere. In July the rainfall was above the normal everywhere except in Cuttack and Balasore, where it was below the normal. In August there was sufficient rainfall, but the fall was very heavy in Cuttack and Balasore where there were floods. In Purnea, Sadar, the growth of the crop was retarded for want of sufficient rain. Some damage was done by insects in parts of Purnea and the Santal Parganas.

Outturn.—In the important jute districts of Purnea and Cuttack, the outturn of the crop has been estimated as 80 and 88 per cent. of normal, respectively. Bhagalpur reports a crop above the normal, i.e., 138 per cent., and Champaran a normal crop, i.e., 100 per cent., the Santal Parganas, Muzaffarpur and Balasore report 90, 75 and 50 per cent., respectively.

On the basis of the area and percentage outturn reported by the District Officers, and taking three bales as the normal outturn per acre, the total gross outturn of the crop for the province this year comes to 682,000 bales against 639,400 bales, the revised final estimate for last year.

The import of jute from Nepal, estimated at 50,000 bales, brings the total for the province to 732,000 bales.

The condition of the crop is fair. The crop has been destroyed by insect pests to some extent in the Kishanganj subdivision. Its growth was retarded at Sadar for want of sufficient rain.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Assam, 1926.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1924-25, the area under jute in Assam represents 5·2 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Season.—The season has been generally favourable for the cultivation and growth of the crop, although in July the rainfall was excessive affecting the crop to a certain extent. Slight damage has been done by floods and insects in some localities.

Area.—As estimated by the Deputy Commissioners the total area under jute is 179,000 acres against the revised figure of 136,500 acres of last year and 168,100 acres shown in the preliminary forecast of this year. The increase occurred in all districts except Sibsagar, and is due to the high price of jute last year and also to the favourable weather at sowing time. The areas reported in the preliminary forecast have been raised in four districts and reduced in one only.

Outturn.—The outturn is estimated at 85 per cent. of the normal per acre against 58 of last year. On the basis of 3·5 bales (of 400 lbs.) as the normal yield of jute fibre per acre, the total produce of this year's crop in this province comes to 535,300 bales against the revised figure of 279,300 bales of last year, or an increase of about 92 per cent.

Director of Agriculture, Assam.

Cachar ..	800	800	400	60	75	600	1,000	First part of August. Early.	The increase in area is due to the high price of jute. On the whole the weather has not been favourable to the crop. The continuous rain after sowing the crop interfered with growth.
Sylhet ..	17,900	13,200	22,000	60	75	27,700	57,700	August. Normal.	The area shown in the preliminary forecast was underestimated and the increase as compared with last year is due to the high price of jute. The weather has been generally favourable although it was not so in April and May. Hailstorms during the early stage of the crop caused some damage in some places in the Habiganj Subdivision.
Goalpara ..	50,000	41,900	62,100	40	90	58,800	195,600	Middle of July. Normal.	The season has been favourable all along. The area has increased considerably due especially to the high price of jute. Flood did some damage to the crop in lowlands.
Kamrup ..	12,700	10,100	11,700	50	90	17,700	36,900	15th August. Normal.	The weather during the season has been favourable. The increase in area is due to the high price of jute. Floods and insects are reported to have caused some damage to the crop.
Darrang ..	9,300	13,900	14,300	60	85	29,200	42,500	Middle of July. Early.	The character of weather has been on the whole favourable. The crop suffered to some extent from heavy rain during the latter part of the season. Insects caused slight damage to the crop in some places.
Nowgong ..	14,700	52,700	63,600	75	85	138,300	169,200	Ditto ..	There was increase in area as compared with last year on account of the high price of jute and also to favourable weather at sowing time. In May and June rainfall was inadequate affecting growth to some extent. Some damage has been done by insects in certain localities.
Sibsagar ..	800	800	800	75	80	800	800	Middle of August. Normal.	The condition of weather has not been quite favourable. Rain was insufficient during the first part of the season and consequently sowing of the crop was somewhat delayed and growth retarded. In July rain was excessive damaging the crop to some extent.
Lakhimpur ..	800	800	600	84	86	900	1,800	Ditto ..	There was extension of cultivation by the Mymensingh settlers in the North Lakhimpur Subdivision. The weather has been generally favourable during the season. Flood is reported to have caused some damage to the crop in lowlands. Slight damage was done by insects in some places.
Garo Hills ..	4,600	3,600	4,000	40	70	5,300	9,800	Beginning of August. Normal.	The increase in area is due to high price of jute and also to favourable weather at the beginning of the season. In June last rain was heavy and the crop was badly affected thereby. The weather was favourable in the latter part of the season.

Second forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1926-1927.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1924-25, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal has represented some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.)

There are two crops—early and late. The "early" crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the Tripura State, and to a small extent in other districts. The "late" crop is grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the season.—During the early stages the conditions were not favourable owing to insufficient rainfall. Subsequently the weather proved generally favourable except in the Tripura State, where irregular distribution of rain hampered the growth to some extent. The present condition of the crop is generally fair and a fair outturn is expected. Sowings of late variety commenced in Midnapore under favourable conditions.

Area sown.—The area sown with the early crop is reported to be 163,158 acres this year as against 163,210 acres in the corresponding forecast of last year (now revised). Of the late crop, an area of 803 acres are reported to have been sown this year as against 963 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Second Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1926-1927.

(On an average of the five years ending 1924-25 the area under sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 7·6 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India.)

Character of the season.—As indicated in the first forecast, the weather at planting time was generally favourable, but subsequent drought interfered with the growth of the crop to some extent, especially in the districts of West Bengal and Mymensingh. Rainfall since July has proved beneficial and the crop is expected to be a satisfactory one for the province on the whole.

Area planted.—The total area planted with the crop for the province is reported to be 199,400 acres this year as against 213,600 and 215,000 acres reported, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers, the average outturn of the crop for the province works out at 82 per cent. of the normal this year as against 83 and 85 per cent., respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Condition figure.—The condition figure for the cane-crop is estimated at 82 per cent. as against a ten years' average of 82·5 per cent. This means that the condition of this year's crop is equal to about 99 per cent. of the ten years' average.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Simla, the 29th September 1926.

Reduction of the rate of interest on deposits in the General Provident Fund and certain other similar funds.

No F.-70-II-F.E.—In view of the recent fall in the rate of interest on their rupee borrowing the Government of India have had under consideration the question whether the rate of interest, which is now paid on deposits in the General Provident Fund and other similar funds and which is intended to correspond to the rate of interest on their rupee loans, should not also be reduced. They have now decided, with the approval of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, that the rate of interest on deposits and also on the balances at credit of subscribers on the 31st March 1927 should be reduced from 5½ to 4½ per cent. with effect from the 1st April 1927. The Funds concerned are :—

(1) The General Provident Fund.
(2) The Civil Engineers' Provident Fund.
(3) The Finance Department Provident Fund.
(4) The Police Department Provident Fund.
(5) The Geological Survey Department Provident Fund.
(6) The Opium Department Provident Fund.
(7) The Northern India Salt Revenue Department Provident Fund.
(8) The Forest Department Provident Fund.
(9) The Civil Veterinary Department Provident Fund.
(10) The Madras Military Assistant Surgeons' Fund.
(11) The Indian Civil Service Provident Fund.
(12) The Indian Ordnance Department Provident Fund.
(13) The Special Provident Funds on bonus or contributory terms.

2. It is intended that the reduced rate of interest (4½ per cent.) should also apply, with effect from the same date, to compulsory subscriptions and contributions and to the balances at credit of the subscribers on the 31st March 1927 in respect of the State Railway Provident Fund and the Provident Funds of the Assam Bengal, Bombay, Baroda and Central India, Burma, Bengal Nagpur, Madras and Southern Mahratta and South India Railways whose provident fund securities have been taken over by Government.

3. No definite period is fixed during which this reduced rate of interest will hold good. It will be liable to revision, should there be disparity between it and the rates at which the Government of India raise their rupee loans at the time. Six months' notice will be given to subscribers before any alteration is made.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The general law relating to forests in British India is contained in the Indian Forest Act, 1878, and its amending Acts. The present Bill brings the law together within the scope of one enactment. The Bill is a straightforward consolidating Bill, but the original Act having been passed before the General Clauses Act of 1897 (X of 1897), it has been possible to shorten the language of the Bill by taking advantage of that Act. The ambiguous language of the second paragraph of section 42 of Act VII of 1878 has been altered in clause 43 (2) so as to bring it into conformity with what appears to have been the original intention of the law. The only other point which calls for further notice is the extent clause. The original Act extended to the Province of Assam, but by Regulation VII of 1891 the Indian Forest Act, 1878, was repealed as far as it relates to Assam. The Bill accordingly omits Assam from the extent clause.

CALCUTTA, the 25th October 1926.

REPORT ON THE CALCUTTA RIOTS, 1926.

11th to 25th July.

Preamble.—For a period of about two months after the close of the second phase of the riots on the 9th May, comparative quiet reigned in Calcutta and normal conditions were gradually resumed. As was to be expected, however, the hostility between the two conflicting communities continued to be very marked and it was only by the exercise of constant vigilance on the part of the police and by the maintenance of the precautionary measures which had been adopted during April and May, that the isolated assaults which bore witness to the continuance of the hostility did not develop into more serious situations. Thanks to this vigilance, the festival of the Bakr-Id, which might easily have been productive of considerable trouble, was successfully negotiated, and the few instances of friction which occurred during this festival and on other occasions during the period of quiescence were promptly and successfully dealt with.

In the existing state of tension, however, a further clash between the two communities was inevitable and it was impossible to do more than postpone the evil day. Both communities were prepared to break out into violence on the slightest alarm, and the most that could be expected of any precautionary measures adopted by the police was the postponement of serious conflict as far as possible and a speedy suppression of open rioting, when the clash should come.

Narrative of important events—July 11th.—The clash eventually occurred on the occasion of the annual Jagannath Car festival on the 11th July, when the members of the Rath Jatra procession of Paikpara were attacked by Muhammadans in Duttabagan.

The procession, which consisted of three cars and about a hundred persons, started at 3 P.M. from Gisiarpara in Cossipore Road, with the intention of proceeding to the Paikpara Raj Garden at No. 64, Belgachia Road. Of the five mosques which fell on the line of route, four were passed without incident, music being stopped in front of the first mosque at the request of the local Muhammadans and being continued in front of the others, as the procession passed these at times which did not fall within the periods prescribed in the Police notification setting forth the hours during which music should not be played in front of mosques. The procession arrived in front of the fifth mosque at Duttabagan Road at about 5-45 P.M. and about ten or fifteen Muhammadans who were standing in front of the mosque informed the police in charge of the procession that music should be stopped as this was the time of the Magrib prayer. With a view to avoiding disturbance, this request was communicated to the leader of the procession and was at once complied with. The procession then began to move forward without music, but when it was about forty yards from the mosque fifty or sixty Muhammadans suddenly appeared and began to attack it with brickbats. The processionists also retaliated by throwing brickbats at the mosque and damaged some articles in two Muhammadan shops close by, but both parties desisted and the Muhammadans went away when the police escort impressed upon them that music would not be played before the mosque. The procession then proceeded without further disturbance, but after the mosque had been passed a party of about one hundred and fifty Muhammadans, armed with lathis, ran up from the direction of Walasthan. They were immediately joined by the Muhammadans who had originally attacked the procession and a serious riot then ensued, in the course of which ten Hindus and ten Muhammadans were wounded and one of the Raths was damaged. Police reinforcements were quickly on the scene, however, and having quelled the disturbance, arrested six Muhammadans, who, with five others, were subsequently prosecuted under section 148, Indian Penal Code. The procession was then taken to its destination, which was reached without further incident at about 6-15 P.M.

The excitement created by this incident, however, was reflected throughout the locality and at about 8-30 P.M. a Muhammadan was stabbed near Churiarpara in Chitpur by three Hindus who were subsequently arrested and prosecuted. At about 9 P.M. a disturbance took place near Gisiarpara in Cossipore Road, where the Sett Bagan mosque and a Jagannath temple are situated in close proximity on opposite sides of the road. At this spot two parties of Hindus and Muhammadans came into conflict and brickbats were freely exchanged. Some of the brickbats struck the mosque and the temple and the former was slightly damaged. The Deputy Commissioner, Headquarters, arrived very shortly afterwards with a motor patrol from Lall Bazar and order was quickly restored. One Hindu and one Muhammadan were arrested on the spot for carrying weapons of offence and five Hindus were subsequently arrested and prosecuted on the complaint of the Imam. This incident created not a little panic in the locality and the majority of the shops in the Cossipore and Chitpur area were closed and the Belgachia tram service was temporarily suspended.

July 12th.—The succeeding night and day passed without incident, but the tension of feeling persisted and several alarms occurred.

July 13th.—At 8 P.M. on the 13th July there was an exchange of brickbats between parties of Hindus and Muhammadans in Ghoshbagan Lane basti. The crowds dispersed, however, on the arrival of the police who were quickly on the spot, and further disturbance was averted by posting piquets in the locality.

July 14th.—At 8-20 P.M. on the 14th July an up-country Hindu, who was cycling through Cossipore, was struck on the head by a soda-water bottle which was thrown by one of a party of Muhammadans who had collected near a Muhammadan tea shop. The local Hindus immediately assembled with the object of avenging this injury and attacked the Muhammadans, but no one was seriously injured. Twelve Muhammadans and six Hindus were subsequently arrested and prosecuted in this connection.

July 15th.—In view of disturbances narrated above, it was apprehended that the 15th July, being the date fixed for the holding of the postponed Raj Rajeswari procession, would be marked by serious disorder and the fullest possible precautions were therefore taken by the police.

The Barwari Puja of Raj Rajeswari, which is annually observed by the yarn merchants of Sutapatty (Cross Street), was originally to have been held between 6 and 9 P.M. on the 1st June 1926, and an application for a license for the procession was made by Kanai Lal Dey of Cross Street. In the application it was stated that the procession would consist of 75 persons and 40 bandsmen. At 2 P.M. on the date fixed for the procession, however, it was found that attempts were being made to utilise the procession as a Hindu demonstration, and that large numbers of Hindus had collected with the object of participating in the ceremony. The procession was widely advertised both in the press and by means of leaflets and the Hindu public were requested to join the procession in large numbers. This was a distinct and flagrant violation of the terms of the license and the position was further complicated by the fact that, in view of the communal tension still prevailing, a large proportion of the police force was employed in the precautionary measures adopted with the object of preventing outbreaks of rioting and it was impossible, at such short notice, to provide sufficient police to ensure the safe passage of such a large procession, particularly when the atmosphere was still very disturbed and since the route of the procession lay through the very area in which serious and prolonged rioting had recently taken place. Moreover, the possibility of the procession becoming a Hindu demonstration had thoroughly aroused the Muhammadans residing in the area through which the procession was required to pass, and any attempt to take the procession along this route without adequate escort would unquestionably have resulted in a violent and widespread conflict between the two opposing communities. In these circumstances, the Commissioner of Police declined to allow the passage of the procession through the original route and prescribed another route which was appropriate for the purpose of the procession. The Hindus refused to accept the change, however, and abandoned the procession, leaving the images on the lorries in the street. They remained there until 4 P.M. on the following day and were then removed by the promoters of the procession, on receipt of an order under section 144, Criminal Procedure Code, which was issued by the Chief Presidency Magistrate, and were kept in the dharamsala at No. 169A, Harrison Road, from which they had originally been taken, until such time as the procession should be permitted to pass by the original route. This behaviour on the part of the would-be processionists was responsible for some excitement among the Hindus, but order was maintained by posting strong piquets of police in the locality.

An attempt was made by a number of Hindu leaders to enlist the support of their whole community by arranging a hartal on the 3rd June. The position was not improved by the holding of a public meeting of Hindus in the Town Hall on the same date, at which the president, Mr. N. N. Sircar, Barrister-at-Law, delivered a strong speech condemning the action of the authorities as inspired by bias in favour of the Muhammadans. It is questionable, however, whether, apart from the communal complexion given to this action, the general Hindu community genuinely regarded it as a grievance.

Thereafter, in consequence of the strained feeling existing in the disturbed area, it was not found possible to permit the passage of the procession until after the conclusion of the Bakr-Id festival and it was finally decided to permit the procession to take place on the 15th July, on condition that the number of processionists should be restricted to 500 and that no attempt should be made to utilise it as a Hindu demonstration.

These terms were accepted and arrangements were made accordingly.

The procession, which consisted of about three hundred persons, including flag-bearers, musicians and visitors, left No. 169A, Harrison Road, at 7-15 A.M., the idols being carried on three motor-lorries. A special force of police accompanied the procession, under the command of the Additional Deputy Commissioner, North Town, and police piquets were posted throughout the route which had been prescribed. For a few hundred yards the procession proceeded in safety, but a few Muhammadans who had been loitering near the Dinu Chamrawalla's mosque were then joined by a large number of their co-religionists and, when the head of the procession reached the mosque, a number of these, headed by Haji Alla Bux, a local fruit vendor, rushed into the middle of the road and demanded that the music should be stopped. As they declined to listen to reason and refused to disperse, they were moved on by the police, who were then subjected to a shower of brickbats and soda-water bottles. Brickbats were also freely thrown at the processionists and some of the latter retaliated by picking up the fallen brickbats and throwing them at the mosque. With great difficulty the police, who were under the personal direction of Mr. H. C. Hunt, Deputy Commissioner of Police, North District, succeeded in avoiding more serious trouble and escorted the procession in safety to Central Avenue. In the meantime, the crowd outside Dinu Chamrawalla's mosque began to attack passing tram-cars and motor-buses with brickbats, and both services were immediately suspended. A party of about fifteen Muhammadan volunteers, dressed in khaki and wearing Turkish caps, came from the direction of Tara Chand Dutt Street and demonstrated in front of the house of Rai Saheb Ram Deo Chokani at No. 137, Harrison Road. They struck the front of the house and the iron gate with their lathis and abused the Sikh durwans, but fortunately the gate was locked and no assault could take place.

When the procession turned into Central Avenue, they were again attacked by large crowds of Muhammadans, who resisted all attempts made to disperse them, and the police were ultimately compelled to open fire. The mobs were extremely persistent and made repeated attacks along the whole line of the procession throughout its progress on Central Avenue between Harrison Road and Mechuabazar Street. So violent were these attacks that a large number of small bodies of police, stationed throughout the length of the procession, were compelled to open fire in order to disperse the crowds opposing them. Eighty-six rounds of ammunition were discharged in this manner, and eighteen persons, including seventeen Muhammadans and one Hindu, are reported to have received gun-shot injuries. It is probable, however, that many others were similarly injured, but did not report to hospital. The mobs dispersed as a result of this firing and the procession was taken through, but a number of Muhammadans collected again immediately afterwards and attacked the Jorasanko police-station with brickbats. A Sub-Inspector and two constables were injured and the motor-car of the Deputy Commissioner, North District, was damaged. As the rioters refused to disperse when called upon to do so, Sub-Inspector S. N. Pal fired three rounds from his revolver and the crowd then broke up. No injuries have been reported as a result of this firing. When the procession reached the junction of Central Avenue and Mechuabazar Street, they were again attacked with brickbats, but their assailants were dispersed by the police. At the junction of Central Avenue and Muktaram Babu Street, they were again attacked by a crowd of Muhammadans, who, however, were dispersed by the police escort. As the procession turned into Beadon Street, a further attempt was made to attack it and some brickbats were thrown. By this time the processionists, who were now in a purely Hindu area and had been greatly augmented by the addition of outsiders, had become thoroughly enraged and, with the brickbats which had been thrown at them and a number of sticks which they had taken from the fencings surrounding young trees on the borders of Central Avenue, they attacked and damaged some neighbouring Muhammadan shops. Two Muhammadan hotels, a biri shop at No. 91, Beadon Street, and a biscuit shop at No. 81, Beadon Street, were damaged in this way and a hotel-keeper was slightly injured, but further excesses were prevented by the police escort.

When the procession was passing along Upper Chitpur Road, a Muhammadan passer-by was assaulted by some of the processionists and had to be sent to hospital and, when it reached Natun Bazar, about two hundred up-country Hindus rushed into the bazar and attacked the Muhammadan stall-keepers. Two Muhammadan fruit-stalls were damaged and two Muhammadans were injured. These were sent to hospital by the police, who also rescued about forty Muhammadans from the bazar and sent them away in tram-cars and motor-buses. When the procession reached the junction of Chitpur Road and Burtolla Street, a party of Muhammadans attempted to attack the processionists, but were dispersed by the police.

Thereafter, the route lay through a purely Hindu area and no further trouble was encountered until the procession reached Strand Road. On arrival at Mirbahar Ghât, the images were set down and a party of about a hundred boatmen who had collected there attempted to create a disturbance. At this juncture the whistle of S.S. Kohisthan was blown loudly and continuously, evidently to rally the Muhammadan lascars and boatmen, and in a few minutes the number of Muhammadans had swelled to four or five hundred. The processionists immediately attacked this crowd and drove them on to the neighbouring ships. Four Muhammadans were injured on S.S. Pegu and two of these had to be removed to hospital, while a Bengali Hindu, who appeared to be one of the attacking party, was wounded so seriously on S.S. Kohisthan that he died before the arrival of the ambulance. The situation was full of dangerous possibilities, but the police quickly intervened and brought it under control and the small number of casualties testifies to the promptitude of their action. Thereafter the images were immersed in the river without further obstruction and the lorries and the processionists returned to the starting-place in safety at about 10 A.M.

The procession left a good deal of excitement in its wake and a number of isolated assaults occurred throughout the line of route after the procession had passed. Thus, at about 8 A.M., two Hindu durwans of No. 55, Canning Street, were stabbed by a Peshwari and one of them was so seriously wounded that he died on the spot. At about the same time a Hindu was stabbed in Amratolla Street and a Bengali Hindu was stabbed near Canning Street and subsequently died in hospital. At 8-20 A.M. two Hindus were assaulted by Muhammadans in Colutolla Street and three of the latter were arrested, and at the same time a Hindu was assaulted by Muhammadans armed with lathis and knives near Syed Sally Lane in Harrison Road. At 8-30 A.M. an Armed Police constable was assaulted with brickbats in Central Avenue and two Muhammadans were assaulted and a Hindu stabbed in the same neighbourhood. At about the same time, a number of Hindus attacked the Ghora Pir Dargah at the junction of Baranashi Ghosh Street and Upper Chitpur Road. They desecrated the dargah and effected some damage, but the police intervened and prevented further mischief. A Muhammadan meatshop at No. 71, Upper Chitpur Road, was also attacked and slightly damaged. Shortly afterwards a Muhammadan hackney-carriage driver was chased and assaulted by up-country Hindus in Lower Chitpur Road, while an up-country Muhammadan was dragged out of an Up-Chitpur tram-car and assaulted with lathis by a party of Hindus. Two Kabulis who were proceeding in a Down tram-car, were also attacked by up-country Hindus and assaulted with lathis. At 9 A.M. a Muhammadan was assaulted by Hindus with lathis and another was stabbed on Bolaram De Street, while two Hindu milkmen were attacked and injured by about fifteen Muhammadans near the Colutolla mosque. Three Muhammadans were arrested in this connection and were prosecuted under sections 148 and 328, Indian Penal Code. At 9-5 A.M. an Ooriya milkman was assaulted by Muhammadans in Colutolla Street and his milk was thrown into the road and, at about the same time, an up-country Brahmin was stabbed near No. 40, Canning Street and a Muhammadan of No. 35, Canning Street was also stabbed. At 9-20 A.M. a Muhammadan was assaulted with lathis near Manicktolla Street in Central Avenue. At 9-30 A.M. a Muhammadan was assaulted with lathis near Jeliatola in Harrison Road and a Hindu head constable of the Armed Police was assaulted near the junction of Central Avenue and Harrison Road. At 10 A.M. a Muhammadan constable of the Armed Police was assaulted with brickbats at the same junction and two Muhammadans were assaulted in Central Avenue. At about the same time a Sikh taxi-driver was assaulted and injured by Muhammadans at the junction of Lower Chitpur Road and Canning Street. At about 11-30 A.M. an up-country Hindu was injured by brickbats in front of the Marwari Hospital in Harrison Road. At 12-50 A.M. a Muhammadan was stabbed in College Street Market and at 2-30 P.M. an old Muhammadan was stabbed in Armenian Street. At 2-55 P.M. a Muhammadan was injured in Central Avenue and at 3-30 P.M. a Hindu cook of the Marwari Hospital was stabbed in the same thoroughfare.

Immediately after the outbreak of rioting, the tram service in Harrison Road was suspended and was not resumed until 10 A.M.

All the shops in the affected area were immediately closed, and in Harrison Road and Lower Chitpur Road they did not reopen until the evening.

In reviewing the regrettable incidents which marked this date and in the light of evidence subsequently obtained, it is impossible to avoid the conclusion that the opposition offered by the Muhammadans to the Raj Rajeswari procession was deliberate and pre-arranged.

* * * * * *

That trouble was likely to occur was apparently foreseen by Muhammadan leaders, as is evident from the text of the telegram sent by Mr. A. K. Ghuznavi from Allahabad to the Moslems of Bengal. There is little doubt that on this occasion Mr. Ghuznavi had begun to realise the disastrous effects of his uncalled for enquiries from all districts in Bengal about the practice relating to music before mosques and that his intentions were pacific, but it is beyond question that his message inspired a sense of grievance amongst his followers by adumbrating the possibility of "grave provocation and persecution."

July 16th.—The 16th July was the fifth day of the Mohurrum festival, and the passage of various processions through the streets in the affected area was attended by some disturbances.

At about 11 P.M. when the procession, No. E7, was passing along Central Avenue, some brickbats were thrown by members of the procession at No. 2, Central Avenue, causing slight injuries to three of the inmates of this building. As the procession was passing No. 6, Central Avenue, a loud report was heard in the middle of the procession and an outcry was raised by the processionists that a bomb had been thrown at them from this building. Enquiries were immediately made and some fragments of paper smelling of potassium chlorate were found on the ground. The culprit could not, however, be traced. At about the same time, the processionists complained to the police that brickbats had been thrown at them from the direction of No. 7, Central Avenue. Shortly after the procession had passed, two persons dressed in khaki, who appeared to be Khilafat volunteers, came back from the procession together with other Muhammadans and ordered the durwans of No. 6, Central Avenue, to open the gate of the premises, which, however, they refused to do. One of the volunteers then whipped out a revolver and fired at the durwans. An up-country Hindu servant who was standing behind the durwans was injured and a discharged bullet was subsequently recovered by the police, but the culprit could not be traced as he disappeared immediately after the occurrence.

At about 11 P.M. a Khilafat volunteer brought a Muhammadan to Muchipara police-station with slight injuries, which were alleged to have been caused by brickbats thrown from No. 44, Mirzapore Street at akharas which were proceeding along that thoroughfare. At the same time a telephone message was received from this address to the effect that the building was being attacked by a mob of about five hundred Muhammadans. The police immediately hastened to the spot and found on arrival that procession No. P. 3 was standing in the street and that brickbats were being thrown at the processionists from an open plot of land at the side of No. 44, Mirzapore Street, by a number of men wearing lungis. The latter dispersed immediately on the arrival of the police. In the meantime a motor-patrol had been despatched from Lall Bazar to assist in quelling this disturbance, but on arriving near No. 27/5, Mirzapore Street, which was about four hundred yards from their destination, the patrol found their way barred by another crowd of Muhammadans who refused to give way. Two Sergeants and a Gurkha sepoy of the Calcutta Armed Police therefore descended from the lorry and proceeded to make a passage through the crowd. While they were engaged in this, a Muhammadan suddenly rushed at one of the Sergeants and attempted to stab him in the back with an iron spear and, on seeing this murderous attack, the sepoy immediately fired at the Muhammadan and shot him in the neck.

The passage of Mohurrum processions through the Manicktolla area was also attended by disturbances and five Hindus, including a constable, were assaulted by Muhammadans, while a motor-car belonging to a Bengali Hindu and a pân shop were damaged in this locality.

July 17th.—At 4-10 P.M. on the 17th a Hindu excise peon was attacked on Tara Chand Dutt Street by about five or six Muhammadans, who assaulted him and deprived him of all his uniform clothing.

July 18th.—The 18th July was the 7th day of the Mohurrum festival, which is the occasion for a large number of processions and since, in view of the tense atmosphere then prevailing in the disturbed area the processions were likely to be attended by serious disturbances, arrangements were made for a route march of all available troops through the affected area. The march commenced at 7-30 A.M. and passed without incident, and there can be no doubt that it had a beneficial effect on the situation in this area. It is satisfactory to record that there was no more rioting on this date and the Mohurrum celebrations were attended by only two minor incidents.

The first incident occurred at about 11-30 A.M. when a Hindu was assaulted by a Muhammadan on Tara Chand Dutt Street and slightly injured.

At about 10-30 P.M. some members of a procession, which was proceeding along Central Avenue, complained that brickbats had been thrown at them from No. 116/1, Harrison Road, and a Muhammadan constable, who was leading the procession, sustained an injury to his finger from pieces of glass which were thrown from this house. The Deputy Commissioner, North District, accordingly searched the room on the second floor of these premises, which was pointed out by the constable and the processionists, and arrested three Nepalis who occupied the room. They were subsequently prosecuted under sections 153, 336 and 337, Indian Penal Code.

Hindu-Moslem feeling, however, continued to run very high throughout the city and the strictest possible precautions were therefore taken by the police to ensure the safe passage of the Ulta Rath procession which was fixed for the following day.

July 19th.—About two hours before the procession was due to start, Mr. H. C. Hunt, Deputy Commissioner, North District, himself proceeded along the whole route prescribed for the procession and warned the residents of the neighbouring houses and bustis. The entire line of route and all important bustis were heavily piquetted and Mr. Hunt himself remained in charge of the procession with a force of six sergeants, one havildar and ten armed sepoys. The lathis which were used by the processionists as well as those carried by Hindus joining the procession were seized and six of the latter were arrested. The majority of the processionists came from the Chitpur mill area and appeared to be somewhat excited. The procession, which started at 3 P.M., at first consisted of about 2,000 persons, but the number gradually increased to 4,000. The Duttabagan mosque was passed in safety, although the processionists indulged in provocative music when passing, and the procession reached Paikpara without incident. Here, however, a disturbance was aroused when brickbats were thrown at the processionists from Muhammadan houses near the Alifjan Mistri mosque, and the processionists immediately retaliated by throwing the road metalling which they took from the side of the road. A large number of Muhammadans had assembled in Gangulipara Road and a mob, consisting of about a hundred persons, broke away from the main body and attempted to attack the processionists with lathis and Mohurrum torches. The latter again availed themselves of the metalling on the side of the road, but the Muhammadans were quickly dispersed by the police. Ten rounds of ammunition were fired at the Muhammadans and the Deputy Commissioner, North District, had to fire three rounds from his revolver to keep the processionists under control. The procession drew near to the Churiarpara mosque at about 4-40 P.M. and, as prayers were then proceeding within the mosque, the Deputy Commissioner directed the processionists to stop their music. The latter, however, preferred to wait until 5 P.M., the conclusion of the period published in the Police notification regarding music before mosques. Two Muhammadan Sub-Inspectors were sent to the mosque to request the Muhammadans there to disperse after their prayers and the procession moved forward at 5-10 P.M. On resuming their advance some of the processionists threw brickbats at the mosque, which was then absolutely empty, and at a number of Muhammadans who were standing behind the mosque. At the same time a loud explosion was heard and immediately a cry was raised that a bomb had been thrown from the mosque. Two more throw-down bombs exploded very shortly afterwards and it was only with the greatest difficulty that the police were able to restrain the processionists from attacking the neighbouring Muhammadan bustis. Shortly afterwards the crowd dispersed and after the excitement was over two Sub-Inspectors were sent to inspect the roof of the mosque for bombs or other explosives. Nothing, however, was found.

As in the case of the Raj Rajeswari procession, the excitement engendered by the passage of the procession produced repercussive acts of violence in other quarters and after the procession had passed. Thus, at 4 P.M. a Muhammadan fruit-seller was arrested near Sealdah for stabbing a cow which was subsequently found to belong to a Muhammadan. This incident caused some stir in the Sealdah hât, but the commotion quickly subsided. At 5-25 P.M. a disturbance arose at Cossipore Ghât between Muhammadan boatmen and local Hindus, but the police arrived on the scene and dispersed the crowds. At 6-50 P.M. a Hindu was assaulted by Muhammadans near Churiarpara, and at about 8 P.M. the dead body of an unknown Hindu carter, who had died of injuries, was found on Paikpara Road. About 40 yards away a Hindu coolie, who had been assaulted with lathis and knives, was found and taken to hospital, where he subsequently died.

July 20th.—Minor disturbances again broke out early on the morning of the 20th July. At 7-30 A.M. a Muhammadan was stabbed by a Hindu at Churiarpara and another Muhammadan was assaulted in the same neighbourhood.

At 8 A.M. two Muhammadans were assaulted by a party of Hindus in Nawab Dilwar Jung Road. Considerable excitement was caused by this incident and numbers of Hindus and Muhammadans collected in Cossipore Road and attacked each other with brickbats. The police, however, quickly arrived on the scene and quelled the disturbance. Seven Hindus have been prosecuted in this connection under sections 143 and 326, Indian Penal Code. At 9 A.M. two Hindus were assaulted by a party of Muhammadans at Paikpara. At 9-15 A.M. a number of Hindus and Muhammadans collected on Nawab Dilwar Jung Road, but the police hastened to the spot and dispersed the crowds. At 11-50 A.M. a Hindu was stabbed by two Muhammadans at Paikpara. At 6 P.M. a Hindu was assaulted by a party of Muhammadans in Lockgate Road.

The Mohurrum celebrations in the evening were attended by considerable excitement and disturbance.

At about 10-30 P.M. when the Amratola procession was emerging from Gobinda Dhar Lane into Armenian Street, they were attacked with brickbats and a number of shots were fired from the neighbouring Marwari houses. Panic immediately broke out among the processionists, who were speedily reinforced by their co-religionists from the neighbourhood, and the situation was with difficulty kept in hand by the police. One dead body bearing injuries, which were said at the time to have been caused by gun shot, was picked up after the disturbance. The houses from which shots were alleged to have been fired were subsequently raided by the Deputy Commissioner, North District, and ninety-seven up-country Hindus, most of whom were Marwaris, were arrested in connection with this incident, but were released on personal recognizance on the following day.

It has been freely alleged in the press that a number of Muhammadan volunteers were indiscriminately allowed to enter the houses which were being searched and that this constituted a serious offence to Hindu sentiment. These allegations, however, greatly exceed the truth. In actual fact, only two such Muhammadans were admitted and they were present in their capacity of search-witnesses. Both were respectable men and their conduct throughout the searches was entirely unexceptionable. The reason why Muhammadans were selected as search-witnesses was that it was essential that there should be some one present at the search who would represent the interests of the Muhammadan complainants, particularly as all the police officers, with the exception of the Deputy Commissioner, were Hindus.

As a measure of revenge for the attack in Armenian Street, some of the processionists stabbed an up-country Hindu whom they found sleeping on the ledge of a shop in Chitpur Road and chopped off some of his fingers. The procession was again attacked during its passage through Mechuabazar Street and throw-down bombs were thrown at it from the Barman Market and neighbouring houses, which were subsequently searched by the Deputy Commissioner, North District. On reaching the junction of Central Avenue and Harrison Road the processionists halted for a short time in order to indulge in the customary torch-swinging and similar demonstrations in front of a Marwari house at No. 2, Central Avenue. Suddenly a loud report was heard from the middle of the procession and the processionists, apparently under the impression that a bomb had been thrown at them, immediately broke loose and attacked this house and the neighbouring shops and buildings. Brickbats and lathis were freely employed and a pân shop and a sweetmeat shop were looted. The police succeeded in bringing the situation under control and directed the procession to move on, but, almost immediately, a number of shots were fired from Marwari houses on both sides of the thoroughfare and the processionists again broke loose. After a brief fusillade of brickbats, however, they were brought under control by the police and induced to move on. Three Muhammadans are reported to have received injuries as a result of this firing.

During the passage of the procession nine Hindus were injured by Muhammadans and seven Muhammadans were assaulted by Hindus.

At about 11-30 P.M. four soda-water bottles were thrown at the Imdad Ali procession of Darzipara which was passing along Chitpur Road and four Muhammadans were slightly injured. At about the same time, a Muhammadan who was returning home was fired at in Armenian Street and injured on the thigh.

Towards midnight, the Nikasipara procession was stoned by Hindus when passing the junction of Grey Street and Upper Circular Road, and a number of the processionists were slightly injured.

July 21st.—As was to be expected, the 21st July, being the tenth and most important day of the Mohurrum festival, was marked by considerable disturbance and repeated conflicts between persons of the opposing communities.

At 10 A.M. a Hindu employee of Messrs. Andrew Yule was found injured at the crossing of Parsi Church Street and Lower Chitpur Road and he died in hospital the same day. At about 11 A.M. an unknown Muhammadan youth was stabbed by Hindus in Harrison Road and subsequently died of his injuries. At about the same time a party of Hindus attacked a Muhammadan procession near the premises of Messrs. Ralli Brothers in Cossipore Road and seven of them were subsequently prosecuted under section 148, Indian Penal Code.

At about 12 noon, some members of a procession, which was passing along Upper Circular Road, threw brickbats at premises No. 157/1/1, Upper Circular Road. They retreated when a resident of the house pointed a gun at them, but they immediately attacked a motor-bus and its attendants on the opposite side of the road and he therefore fired a number of rounds in their direction. Two armed sepoys who attempted to disperse the mob were also stoned and were compelled to open fire, as a result of which two Muhammadans were injured. The mob then dispersed.

At about the same time, some excitement arose among the members of the Amratola procession, which was then proceeding along Lower Chitpur Road, and some of the processionists began to shout abuse at a number of Hindus who had collected in Cotton Street. The police officers in charge of the procession succeeded in moving it on to Mechuabazar Street, but a large number of the processionists then broke away and, joining forces with other Muhammadans of the locality, proceeded via Chitpur Spur and Harrison Road to Burrabazar, apparently with the object of assisting a number of their co-religionists whom they understood to have been held up by Hindus near Howrah Bridge. On seeing this, the Hindus who had collected in the neighbourhood of Cotton Street advanced towards Harrison Road through Babu Lal Lane. Two small parties of police who were stationed in this locality attempted to hold back the advancing mobs, but they were heavily stoned and, finding no other means of averting a serious collision between the two parties, they were compelled to open fire on the respective mobs. One Muhammadan was killed on the spot and two Hindus received injuries, to which they subsequently succumbed in hospital, and the mobs then dispersed.

Shortly after this occurrence, a Muhammadan was stabbed in Harrison Road by a party of Hindus and, almost simultaneously, an old Muhammadan was assaulted about fifty yards away in the same thoroughfare by a party of Hindus armed with lathis. At about the same time, a Muhammadan member of a procession was struck by a brickbat at the junction of Mechuabazar Street and College Street and another member of a procession was injured by a missile thrown apparently from Raja Digambar Mitra's house in the former street, while yet another Muhammadan was injured by brickbats thrown from the neighbourhood of No. 36/1, Mechuabazar Street.

Shortly after noon an excited crowd of about five thousand Muhammadans collected near Talla Bridge in Chitpur with the intention of proceeding to Sadagarpatti, which they understood to have been looted by Hindus. Mr. C. E. S. Fairweather, Deputy Commissioner, Port Police, who was returning to Lall Bazar with a motor-patrol after dispersing mobs in Cossipore, succeeded in intercepting this mob on the bridge, but they refused to disperse and a party of about three hundred persons broke away to the west. The patrol therefore opened fire, killing one man and wounding two others, and the crowd then dispersed.

Shortly before 1 P.M. a Hindu was found stabbed to death at the junction of Baitakhana Road.

At about 1 P.M. some disturbance was caused by a number of processions in the vicinity of the Karbala Tank near Beadon Street, A number of processionists, armed with lathis and brickbats, rushed into Beadon Street and attacked the Hindu shops and houses. Sergeant Barnes, who was on duty at the junction of Beadon Street and Upper Circular Road, directed them to disperse, but they refused to do so and adopted a very threatening attitude. They then attempted to rush the Sergeant who was compelled to fire two rounds with his revolver, as a result of which one Muhammadan was killed. This action caused them to retreat, but they were heavily stoned by a number of local Hindus whom they immediately turned to attack. The Sergeant therefore fired four more rounds with his revolver, wounding two Muhammadans and two Hindus, and the mobs then completely dispersed.

Shortly afterwards some members of procession No. P. 33 attacked a small Hindu sweetmeat shop at No. 132, Upper Circular Road, and destroyed the contents. At about 1-30 P.M. a stable at No. 61, Mechuabazar Street and a carriage contained therein, which belonged to a Hindu, were damaged by a party of Muhammadan hooligans. At about 2 P.M. a party of Muhammadans attacked a Hindu house on the eastern side of Upper Circular Road, near Sukea Street, with brickbats. Temporary Sergeant Rimmer, who was on patrol in this neighbourhood, attempted to disperse this mob, but he was immediately stoned and was compelled to fire one round from his revolver, after which the rioters dispersed. At 2-30 P.M. brickbats were thrown from the direction of Raja Digambar Mitra's house at a procession which was passing along Mechuabazar Street, and a member of the procession and a constable in the police escort were injured. At the same time an Ooriya Hindu was stabbed by Muhammadans near No. 74, College Street and subsequently died of his injuries. At about 3 P.M. two Hindus were separately assaulted by Muhammadans in Mechuabazar Street and a Bengali Hindu was assaulted near No. 39, Upper Circular Road by a party of Muhammadans armed with lathis. At about the same time a party of about twenty-five Muhammadans attacked and looted a stationery shop and a pân shop belonging to Hindus in Mechuabazar Street. At about 3-15 P.M. Inspector Hall, who was patrolling with an armoured car, found a number of Muhammadans armed with brickbats attacking a Hindu house near Gas Street in Upper Circular Road. As they refused to disperse he fired one round from his revolver, wounding one of them, and they then broke and fled. At about 3-30 P.M. a party of about ten Muhammadans attacked and looted a Hindu pân shop in Raja Lane. At about 4 P.M. a disturbance was caused by two Muhammadans who refused to pay for articles which they had taken from a Hindu shop at No. 11, Upper Circular Road, and, in the ensuing quarrel, brickbats were thrown at the shop by a party of about twenty Muhammadans who had hurried to the support of their co-religionists. Sergeant Carfield, who was on duty at the spot, directed the mob to disperse, but they refused to do so and he was therefore compelled to open fire. One Muhammadan was wounded and the mob then dispersed.

At about the same time, a serious situation arose at the junction of Mechuabazar Street and College Street where large crowds of Muhammadans assembled and refused to disperse, despite the repeated efforts of the police piquet which was posted in that neighbourhood. On proceeding to disperse one of the crowds for the third time, the members of the piquet were heavily stoned and they therefore fired two rounds, after which the crowds finally broke up.

During the course of the afternoon a party of Hindus threw stones at the Jumma Pir Dargah in Clive Street and damaged some panes of glass. The windows of a dispensary belonging to a Bengali Hindu at No. 104, Upper Circular Road, the stone railing surrounding Sir Jagadish Chandra Bose's house at No. 93, Upper Circular Road, some glass panes of the Science College at No. 92, Upper Circular Road and a Hindu pân shop at No. 105, Upper Circular Road were damaged by brickbats, and brickbats and soda-water bottles were also thrown at No. 94, Upper Circular Road, at the Brahmo Girls' School and the Deaf and Dumb School in the same thoroughfare and at Nos. 97 and 60/1, Mechuabazar Street. On the other hand, eight Hindus, of whom three were Bengalis, were arrested in Upper Circular Road and Mechuabazar Street for throwing brickbats at passing processions.

At about 8 P.M. a Muhammadan was stabbed in Harrison Road. At about 9 P.M. a Hindu was stabbed in Zakaria Street and another Hindu was assaulted in Ismail Madan Lane. At about the same time two Muhammadans were assaulted at the junction of College Street and Harrison Road.

This day, which was the final day of the Mohurrum festival, was the most important and eventful during the July riots. Throughout the day, the atmosphere in the North Town and suburbs was charged with panic and many of the shops and other places of business were closed. Taxi patrols were freely employed throughout the day and at noon the situation was so menacing that three armoured cars were despatched to patrol the affected area. Towards evening, however, the situation improved considerably and, apart from several alarms, the succeeding nights was comparatively uneventful.

July 22nd.—With the conclusion of the Mohurrum it was hoped that the disorder which had been particularly marked during this festival would now cease, but the excitement engendered by the events recorded above still continued, and striking evidence of the degree to which communal passions had again been roused was afforded by the fact that fresh disturbances were provoked, at about noon on the 22nd July, by an alarm raised by a Muhammadan boy that members of his community were being assaulted by Hindus in Pageyapati. Prior to this, the shops in the disturbed area had been opened as usual, in the hope that no further disturbance would take place, but the rumour of further conflict caused a fresh panic and all the shops in Harrison Road and Lower Chitpur Road immediately closed down.

At 11-50 A.M. a Muhammadan was assaulted by a Hindu at the junction of Cotton Street and Chitpur Road. At 12-30 P.M. a Muhammadan was injured so seriously by a party of Hindus near Mechuabazar Street in Chitpur Road that he had to be removed to hospital, and another Muhammadan was stabbed in Harrison Road. Eight Hindus were arrested in connection with the latter event. At 1 P.M. a Muhammadan was assaulted in Harrison Road near Manohar Das Street and at about the same time a Hindu carrying a knife was arrested in Cotton Street. At about 2 P.M. an Oriya Hindu was stabbed to death in Tara Chand Dutt Street by a party of Muhammadans, and at 2-15 P.M. an up-country Hindu was fatally stabbed in the back of the head by a Muhammadan at the crossing of Tara Chand Dutt Street and Lower Chitpur Road. The assailant in the latter case was arrested by the Additional Deputy Commissioner, North District, and has since been sentenced to transportation for life. At 3-30 P.M. a Hindu was stabbed by a party of Muhammadans near the junction of Tiretti Bazar Street and Harinbari Lane and died shortly after admission to hospital. Considerable panic ensued as a result of this murder and all the shops in Canning Street were immediately closed. At about the same time two other Hindus were stabbed by Muhammadans in Tara Chand Dutt Street and Zakaria Street, while a Hindu was assaulted near the junction of Parsi Church Street and Lower Chitpur Road and subsequently died in hospital. At about 6 P.M. a Muhammadan was assaulted with lathis by a party of Hindus in Muktaram Babu Street.

At about 11-30 P.M. two Hindu employees of the Corporation were attending to a lamp in New Circular Road Extension near Begbagan, when they were attacked by a Muhammadan, who assaulted them with an iron lamp-lighter which he snatched from their hands. Their assailant was immediately joined by four other Muhammadans, one of whom whipped out a knife, and in the ensuing affray one of the Hindus was seriously and the other slightly injured. The police were quickly on the scene and arrested three Muhammadans, who were subsequently prosecuted under section 325, Indian Penal Code.

July 23rd.—At about 11-30 A.M. on the 3rd July, a Hindu was stabbed by a Muhammadan in Mechuabazar Street. At 9 P.M. an up-country Hindu youth was stabbed near the mosque at No. 4, Mechuabazar Street and nine Muhammadans were subsequently arrested in this connection.

July 24th.—At 10-30 A.M. on this date a Muhammadan merchant was assaulted by a number of up-country Hindus in Hanspukuria Lane, but a priest of the local Hanuman temple intervened on his behalf and he was allowed to go. At this juncture a Sergeant arrived and arrested two of the assailants and a number of Hindus, including the remainder of the assailants, subsequently assaulted the priest because of his intervention on behalf of the Muhammadan. Four persons were arrested for participation in the second assault.

July 25th.—At about 6 P.M. a Hindu carter, who was driving his cart along Canal West Road, was stabbed by a Muhammadan. During the course of the evening, the Imam in charge of the mosque in Doctor Durga Charan Road took exception to the playing of music by a Hindu Sankirtan party in a Bengali house close to the mosque. The Imam was, however, warned by the police, and no disturbance took place.

The foregoing narrative does not claim to be an exhaustive catalogue of all the incidents which occurred during the July riots and, in addition to the events described above, there were numerous other incidents which it would serve no purpose to record. The main features of the rioting have been described at some length, and such other incidents have been included as will serve to show the character and course of the riots.

Measures taken to quell the riots.—The uncertain state of the atmosphere in the disturbed area throughout the months of May and June rendered necessary the continuance of the emergency measures which were adopted during April, and piquets, consisting of twenty Sergeants and seventy-seven sepoys, supported by two Sergeants and ten sowars of the Mounted Police, were permanently stationed at important road junctions to assist the local police in controlling this area. This force was periodically augmented whenever disturbances were apprehended and the Deputy Commissioner, North District, also maintained a large system of patrols, involving the employment on actual duty of about 400 men.

When the first disturbance broke out at Paikpara on the 11th July, therefore, the police dispositions were sufficient to control the initial outbreak. Reinforcements were, however, rushed out from Lall Bazar immediately on receipt of telephonic information of the disturbances and reinforcements were similarly sent out as required during the three succeeding days. On the 15th July the Raj Rajeswari procession was accompanied by the Deputy Commissioner, North District, the Additional Deputy Commissioner and an Assistant Commissioner, one Inspector, five Sergeants and thirty sowars of the Mounted Police and a large force of foot police, including Sergeants and Armed Police. Very shortly after the procession had started, the situation in Burrabazar became extremely serious and a special force of Sergeants was therefore despatched to assist the police already stationed in that locality. Four heavy and four light motor-patrols were also despatched and by 8-15 A.M. all the traffic police had been withdrawn from the streets and held in reserve at Lall Bazar. By this time the situation from Burrabazar to Jagannath Ghât was extremely serious and all the remaining European Inspectors and Sergeants and fifty sepoys of the Eastern Frontier Rifles were therefore mobilised and sent out in patrols to keep the crowds on the move in this area.

Similar dispositions were maintained during the succeeding days, but on the 18th, 20th and 21st July, which were the most important days of the Mohurrum festival, special arrangements were made which involved the employment of a total force of one Inspector, eight Sergeants and fifty sowars of the Mounted Police, supported by twenty sowars of His Excellency the Governor's Bodyguard, three Sergeants and one hundred sepoys of the Armed Police, three hundred constables of the civil police and seventy European Sergeants, in addition to the armed piquets which were permanently maintained by the Eastern Frontier Rifles. All other available officers and men were held in reserve at Lall Bazar and were rushed out to points of danger whenever necessary.

At about noon on the 21st July, the situation became so serious that it was found necessary to requisition the assistance of three of the armoured cars which had assisted in the previous riots. These were readily supplied by the military authorities, but by the evening of that day the situation had so far improved that it was found possible to dispense with the services of two of them and the third was sent back on the morning of the following day.

Casualties.—So far as can be ascertained, the total number of casualties resulting from the July riots was 28 deaths and 226 injuries sufficiently serious to warrant admittance into hospital. Of the dead persons, 20 were Hindus and 8 were Muhammadans, while the injured persons included 94 Hindus and 132 Muhammadans. Appended is a statement of the casualties, giving the dates on which they occurred:—

Date.	Number of persons injured.		Number of deaths.

	226		28

As in the case of the April and May riots, however, it is probable that these figures do not represent the total casualties which occurred during the July riots, since, in addition to the persons who were dressed and discharged by the hospitals, a number of injured persons were undoubtedly treated at their homes, instead of being sent to hospital.

Police casualties.—There were numerous cases of assault of both officers and men of the Calcutta Police, who were frequently subjected to showers of brickbats, but fortunately the injuries were in no case very serious and no record has therefore been kept.

Arrests.—The total number of persons arrested during the July riots was 360, of whom 185 were Hindus and 175 Muhammadans. One hundred and ninety-three of these were discharged for lack of evidence and the sections of law under which the remainder were prosecuted are detailed below:—

Instances of firing by the police.—From the fact that a large proportion of the disturbances during the present riots were occasioned by, and took place during, the holding of religious processions, it is self-evident that numerous conflicts between large bodies of the opposing communities occurred and that the police were frequently faced with the necessity of immediately dispersing large crowds of persons who were keyed up to the highest pitch of religious and communal frenzy. In these circumstances, the only effective means of dispersing the mobs and averting more serious conflict was to resort to the use of firearms.

A striking example of this is afforded by the case of the Raj Rajeswari procession on the 15th July, which was the first occasion during the present riots on which the police were compelled to resort to the use of firearms. As stated elsewhere, the procession was first attacked near the Dinu Chamrawalla mosque in Harrison Road and when it emerged into Central Avenue a portion of the police escort, which was leading the procession, found that a large crowd of Muhammadans, which is generally computed at 2,000, had assembled from the north, south and east and had completely barred the further progress of the procession. These persons were exceedingly aggressive and both the processionists and the police escort were subjected to heavy showers of brickbats. With great difficulty the procession was forced through, but when the head of the procession reached the Burrabazar Telephone Exchange large numbers of Muhammadans rushed out from the bustis on both sides of the road and furiously attacked the processionists. Although repeatedly driven back, they were extremely persistent in their attacks and Sergeants Mann, Allen, Dean, Wood and Jarrett and small parties of Armed Police, who were stationed at intervals along the procession, were successively compelled to open fire. In the meantime, a number of Muhammadans, who had attacked the procession during its progress through Harrison Road and had been driven back by the police, poured through from Mechuabazar into Syed Sally Lane and proceeded to attack the Jorasanko police-station with brickbats. A few constables were injured and Mr. Hunt's car was damaged, but Sub-Inspector S. N. Pal prevented further excesses by firing three shots in the direction of the crowd, who then dispersed. On reaching the junction of Central Avenue and Mechuabazar Street the procession was again attacked by large bodies of Muhammadans. A piquet of the Eastern Frontier Rifles under the command of Sergeant

Naylor had been posted at this junction and, seeing that a serious collision between the mob and the procession was otherwise inevitable, the Sergeant ordered a section of the piquet to fire two rounds and himself fired a like number. Sergeant Price and a Gurkha sepoy of the Calcutta Armed Police also fired one round each, and the mob then dispersed. Proceeding along Central Avenue, the procession was again challenged by a Muhammadan mob near Chitpur Spur, but four rounds were fired by the Armed Police at the head of the procession and the mob then retired. Thereafter, there were frequent collisions along the line of route and the processionists became increasingly bellicose in their attitude, but in all cases the police dispositions were sufficient to keep the situation under control and it was not again found necessary to resort to firing.

At about 11 P.M. on the 16th July, a Mohurrum procession No. P. 3 was attacked with brickbats near No. 44, Mirzapore Street and, on receipt of telephonic information of this disturbance, a motor-patrol was despatched from Lall Bazar to assist the local police in bringing the situation under control. On arrival near No. 27/5, Mirzapore Street, however, which is about four hundred yards from their destination, the patrol were confronted by another Muhammadan mob, who refused to give passage to the lorry. Two Sergeants and a sepoy of the Eastern Frontier Rifles, therefore, proceeded to make a passage and, while they were thus engaged, a member of the crowd suddenly rushed at one of the Sergeants and attempted to stab him in the back with a pointed iron-rod, which he used as a spear. Seeing that the life of the Sergeant was in imminent danger, the sepoy immediately fired at the assailant and the Sergeant, who had turned at a cry of warning, received the dead body in his arms.

By his very commendable presence of mind, the sepoy undoubtedly saved the Sergeant's life and this view was endorsed at the inquest, when the Coroner's jury brought in a verdict to the effect that he had killed the Muhammadan in the execution of his duty and that his action was justified.

At about 4 P.M. on the 19th July when the Paikpara Ulta Rath (Punarjatra) procession, which consisted of about four thousand persons and was accompanied by a force of police under the command of Mr. H. C. Hunt, Deputy Commissioner, North District, was passing along Paikpara Road, brickbats were thrown at the procession by the Muhammadan residents of the Paikpara busti, and the processionists immediately retaliated. A party of about one hundred Muhammadans, armed with lathis and Mohurrum torches, then advanced from Gangulipara Lane obviously with the intention of attacking the procession. They refused to disperse when ordered to do so and, under the orders of the Deputy Commissioner, ten rounds of ammunition were fired by a party of Armed Police under Sergeant Mann, after which the crowd broke and fled. Meanwhile, the processionists, who were very excited, became out of hand and began to throw brickbats at the Muhammadan houses bordering on Paikpara Road. They paid no heed to the warning of the Deputy Commissioner and the latter therefore fired three rounds with his revolver. This action brought the situation completely under control and the procession proceeded to Barrackpore Trunk Road without further incident. Four Muhammadans and two Hindus were wounded as a result of this firing.

At about 10-30 P.M. on the 20th July a serious situation arose in Armenian Street when a large procession from Amratola was passing through this thoroughfare. Sub-Inspector A. Ahmad received information that stones were being thrown at the procession from certain houses in the street and on proceeding to the spot he found that shots were being fired from Nos. 16/2A and 26/3, Armenian Street, and No. 23/24, Rup Chand Roy Street. The firing continued despite his orders to desist and a man fell dead beside him and a bullet whizzed past his head. He therefore fired three rounds from his revolver at the tops of the houses in question and the firing then ceased. A force of police then arrived from Lall Bazar and the procession was induced to move on.

At about 11-45 P.M. this same procession, which was attacked en route in Mechuabazar Street and Central Avenue, was again attacked near No. 10, Central Avenue, and shots were fired at the procession from a number of Marwari houses in this neighbourhood. Sub-Inspector A. Ahmad therefore fired four shots with his revolver and Sergeant West fired three and the firing from the houses then ceased.

At about noon on the 21st July some members of a Muhammadan procession attacked the premises at No. 157/1/2, Upper Circular Road and the surrounding bustis. Sergeant Levey who was in charge of a piquet at the junction of Grey Street and Circular Road immediately despatched two sepoys of the Armed Police to quell this disturbance. In trying to disperse the rioters, however, both the sepoys were heavily stoned, one being struck on the face, and they therefore fired one round each, as a result of which two Muhammadans were wounded, and the crowd then dispersed.

At about this time a serious situation arose in Burrabazar. A number of Muhammadans broke away from the Amratola procession, which was then proceeding along Chitpur Road, and, apparently with the object of assisting a number of their co-religionists whom they understood to have been held up by Hindus near Howrah Bridge, passed through Chitpur Spur into Harrison Road. A number of Hindus who, prior to this, had collected in the neighbourhood of Cotton Street and had been violently and loudly abused by members of the procession, advanced towards Harrison Road through Babu Lal Lane. A collision between these two parties would inevitably have resulted in considerable bloodshed and Sergeants Powers and Atkinson, who were on patrol in that neighbourhood, endeavoured, therefore, to hold back the advancing mobs. But the latter were, however, very excited and extremely defiant and, so far from paying heed to the Sergeants, pelted them heavily with brickbats. Both Sergeants were therefore compelled to open fire at the respective mobs. Five rounds of ammunition were fired, as a result of which one Muhammadan was killed and two Hindus received injuries to which they subsequently succumbed in hospital, and the mobs then dispersed.

Shortly after noon, Mr. C. E. S. Fairweather, Deputy Commissioner, Port Police, who was returning to headquarters with a motor-patrol after dispersing crowds in Cossipore, found a large crowd of Muhammadans armed with lathis rushing over the Talla Bridge. With great difficulty he pushed his patrol ahead of the crowd and formed a line across the bridge with the object of stemming the rush, but the crowd, which, by this time, numbered about five thousand, were very excited over a report that Sadagarpatti was being looted by Hindus, and a party consisting of about 300 persons broke away to the west. Having no other means of controlling the mob, Mr. Fairweather ordered controlled fire. Eighteen rounds of ammunition were discharged, as a result of which one man was killed and two were wounded, and the crowd then began to give way. After retreating a short distance they again became threatening, but after a further warning they dispersed.

At about 1 P.M. a disturbance arose at the Karbala Tank near Beadon Street where a number of Mohurrum processions had collected, and a large number of the processionists armed with lathis and brickbats rushed into Beadon Street and proceeded to attack the Hindu shops and houses. Sergeant Barnes, who was on duty at the junction of Manicktola Street and Upper Circular Road, ran to the spot and finding, on arrival, that determined attacks were being made on a number of Hindu shops, he remonstrated with the mob, who then turned and attacked him. He dispersed the mob, however, by firing two rounds with his revolver and killing one man. The retreating Muhammadans were then heavily stoned by the Hindus on the northern side of Beadon Street and they immediately launched another attack. He therefore fired four shots at the mobs wounding two Muhammadans and two Hindus and the crowds then dispersed. The Sergeant was entirely alone throughout this incident and his action was highly commendable.

At about 2 P.M. a police patrol attached to the Sukea Street outpost were called upon to disperse a mob who were attacking a pân shop in that street. After this had been effected, Temporary Sergeant Rimmer, who was attached to the patrol, noticed that a crowd of Muhammadans were throwing brickbats at a Hindu house on the eastern side of Circular Road. When he proceeded to disperse this crowd they attacked him with brickbats and he therefore fired one round from his revolver, after which the crowd broke and fled.

At about 3 P.M. Inspector Hall, who was patrolling with an armoured car, found a crowd of Muhammadans attacking a Hindu house in Upper Circular Road near Gas Street. As they refused to disperse he fired one round with his revolver, wounding one man, and the crowd then broke up.

At about 4 P.M. Sergeant Carfield, who was returning to headquarters after the completion of his duties at Manicktolla, found a number of Muhammadans attacking Hindu shops on the western side of Lower Circular Road near Sealdah Station. He directed them to disperse, but they refused to do so and attacked him with brickbats and he therefore fired one round with his revolver. One man was wounded.

At about the same time, Temporary Sergeant Wynne, who was in charge of a police piquet, was faced with a serious situation at the junction of Mechuabazar Street and College Street. Three persons were stabbed in the immediate neighbourhood of his piquet and large crowds assembled, which he was twice compelled to disperse. They reassembled, however, and, on proceeding to disperse them for the third time, he and two sepoys who were with him were heavily stoned. Having no other means of dispersing the mob he directed one of the sepoys to fire one round and himself fired a shot from his revolver. One man is believed to have been wounded as a result of this firing and the mob then dispersed.

There can be no question that firing was necessary in all the above instances and that, in each case, it was both sufficient to secure the object in view and at the same time strictly limited to the necessities of the situation.

Instances of shooting by members of the public.—Shortly before midnight on the 15th July, when a Mohurrum procession No. E-7 was passing No. 6, Central Avenue, a throw-down bomb exploded in the centre of the procession and considerable excitement was created among the processionists who declared that it had been thrown from this building. The police escort in charge of the procession succeeded in moving it on without serious disturbance, but, shortly after the procession had passed, two Muhammadans dressed in khaki, who appeared to be Khilafat volunteers, came back from the procession, in company with other Muhammadans, and directed the durwans of No. 6, Central Avenue to open the gate leading into the courtyard. The latter declined to do so, however, and one of the volunteers then whipped out a revolver and fired at the durwans, injuring an up-country Hindu servant who was standing behind them. A case was instituted by the police under section 307, Indian Penal Code, and, in the subsequent enquiry, a discharged bullet was found on the premises, but no trace of the miscreants could be obtained, as they disappeared immediately after the occurrence.

At about 10 P.M. on the 20th July when the Amratola Mohurrum procession was passing along Armenian Street, considerable excitement was caused among the processionists who complained that they had been attacked with brickbats from a number of houses in the street. Sub-Inspector A. Ahmad, who was at the head of the procession, immediately proceeded to the scene of the disturbance and found on arrival that shots were being fired from the roofs of the houses at Nos. 16/2A and 26/3, Armenian Street, and No. 23/24, Rup Chand Roy Street. His orders to cease fire had no effect and, as, at the same time, a man fell dead beside him and a bullet whizzed past his head, he fired three shots at the roofs of the houses in question and the firing then ceased. In the subsequent enquiry it could not be definitely established that the dead man's injuries had been caused by gun-shot, but their appearance was not inconsistent with the theory that they might have been caused by a glancing bullet.

At about 11-45 P.M. when this procession was in front of No. 2, Central Avenue, great excitement was created by the noise of a loud explosion in the middle of the procession. A cry was immediately raised that a bomb had been thrown at them and they immediately began to attack the neighbouring shops and buildings. The police escort succeeded in bringing the situation under control, however, and the procession was moved on, but, almost immediately afterwards, a number of shots were fired at the procession from Marwari houses on both sides of the thoroughfare, in the vicinity of No. 10, Central Avenue, apparently out of fear that the processionists were about to attack this place also. Three Muhammadans were wounded as a result of this firing, which ceased when shots were fired by two police officers in charge of the procession. A number of Marwari houses in this neighbourhood were subsequently raided by the Deputy Commissioner, Detective Department, and one Mati Lal Prahladka of No. 10, Central Avenue, was arrested with a ·16 bore double-barrel breech-loading gun.

At about 1 P.M. on the 21st July, when a number of Muhammadan processions were passing along Upper Circular Road towards the Karbala Tank, a cry was raised by the members of one of the processions that brickbats had been thrown at them from the house of Mr. N. N. Sen, Assistant Commissioner, Arms Act Department, who was then absent on duty. A number of the processionists immediately attacked the house with brickbats, but desisted when Mr. Sen's younger brother appeared on the verandah and pointed a gun at them, and they then turned their attention to a motor-bus standing on the opposite side of the road. They seriously damaged the bus and attacked the men in charge and the Assistant Commissioner's brother then fired a few shots in their direction. Two Gurkha constables, who were on duty close by, also fired two or three shots, as a result of which one Muhammadan was killed and another seriously wounded, and the crowd then dispersed. A case under section 336, Indian Penal Code, was instituted against the Assistant Commissioner's brother, who lodged a counter-case under section 148, Indian Penal Code, against a number of the processionists whom he recognised. Both cases were, however, subsequently withdrawn.

Attacks on religious institutions.—A number of religious institutions were attacked during the July riots, but in the majority of cases the attacks were limited to stone-throwing and the damage was not serious. The chief institutions to suffer were mosques and dargahs and brief details of the more important cases are given below.

The first attack took place at about 9 P.M. on the 11th July when two parties of Hindus and Muhammadans came into conflict near Gisiarpara in Cossipore Road, where the Sett Bagan mosque and a Jagannath temple are situated on opposite sides of the road. Brickbats were thrown at both the mosque and the temple and a minaret and a door of the former were broken.

On the morning of the 15th July, the Dinu Chamrawalla mosque in Harrison Road was stoned by the members of the Raj Rajeswari procession in retaliation for the attack made upon them by the Muhammadans of this locality and a few glass panes and chandeliers were broken.

At about 8-30 A.M. on the same date, a number of Hindus, who were following the procession, attacked the Ghora Pir Dargah at the junction of Baranashi Ghosh Street and Upper Chitpur Road. They broke down the railings surrounding the dargah and the vault over the grave and expectorated freely over the building.

During the afternoon of the 21st July and again at about 10-30 A.M. on the 22nd July, Hindu mobs attacked the Jumma Pir Dargah in Clive Street with brickbats and broke a number of glass panes and plaster ornaments. On the second occasion, the attendants of the dargah closed the doors from the inside and the crowds were shortly afterwards dispersed by a posse of police who had been summoned by telephone from Lall Bazar.

Incendiarism.—This feature of the April and May riots was almost entirely absent from the July disturbances and in only four cases were the Fire Brigade called upon to extinguish fires which had been caused by the rioters. In two other instances they found, on arrival at the scene of the alarm, that riots were proceeding and that they had been summoned by panic-stricken householders, who urgently desired the presence of a trained body of men as a means of protection against possible mob excesses.

The most disquieting incident of this character occurred on the night of the 20th July, when the doors, windows and other combustible portions of a block of houses bounded by Central Avenue, Nilmadhab Sen Lane, Murali Dhar Sen Lane and Krishna Behari Sen Lane and the walls of the houses up to a distance of over two feet from the ground were drenched with oil. These premises are occupied almost entirely by Marwaris and Bengali Hindus and there seems little doubt that the oil was placed there by Muhammadans, with the object of setting fire to the houses by throwing down a torch during the passage of a Mohurrum procession.

Oil had also been freely poured on the lanes which bound three sides of the buildings, evidently with the intention that the blazing roads would not only prevent the escape of the inmates of the burning building, but would also delay the Fire Brigade in entering the lanes for rescue work and for extinguishing the fire.

Had this diabolical plan been carried into execution, the consequences would have been appalling, for the inmates of the houses would have been shut in by a sheet of flame and many lives would undoubtedly have been lost before the Fire Brigade could have effected a rescue. The oil was laid with the utmost secrecy and was not noticed by anyone until the morning of the following day, but fortunately very heavy rain fell on the night of the 20th July and a terrible tragedy was providentially averted.

A thorough inquiry was instituted immediately after the discovery of the oil, but no clues of any description were available and it can only be surmised that the plot was contrived with the object of exacting revenge for the shots fired at Muhammadan processions in this area.

The Ambulance Department were kept fully employed and were of inestimable value in removing the wounded from the streets. Their promptitude in removing wounded persons to hospital must have saved a number of lives which would otherwise have been lost. It is highly satisfactory to record that, even on the 15th July, when their resources were strained to the utmost, the great majority of the calls were immediately answered and the few delays which occurred were of no consequence. Thus, of the seventy-two calls which occurred on this date, sixty-seven were answered without any delay whatsoever, while in the remaining cases there were two cases of one minute delay, two cases of two minutes delay and one case of three minutes delay. When it is remembered that there were only ten machines to handle this large number of cases, this record affords striking evidence of the keenness and proficiency of the members of this department and the excellence of the system by which it is administered by Captain B. A. Westbrook.

Indian press.—After the experience of the April and May riots and the prosecutions launched in respect of press publications written in connection therewith, it was hoped that a better spirit and a greater sense of responsibility would develop among the editors of the Indian press, but this hope was not realised and the journals of both communities continued to display a regrettably hostile spirit. Even the less inflammatory articles which were published by both communities were greatly to be deplored and there can be little doubt that they contributed materially to the maintenance of the tension which led to the July riots. The disturbances in Pabna district furnished ample material for bitter communal criticism and Government were compelled to undertake a number of prosecutions for articles in this connection. During the months of June and July, thirteen prosecutions were sanctioned under sections 124A and 153A, Indian Penal Code, and section 108, Criminal Procedure Code. In ten of these cases the offending journals were Hindu and three were Muhammadan and the majority of the cases are still pending judgment.

There is at present an improvement in the general tone of the vernacular press, but it is difficult to say whether this is due to the above prosecutions or to the absence of rioting or other material for communal criticism. The experience of the July riots has shown, however, that any communal disturbances in Calcutta are almost certain to be accompanied by a flood of inflammatory articles in the newspapers of both the contending factions and, during the riots, a number of new journals were started which are definitely communal in tone. The ordinary law clearly provides no adequate check for the suppression of publications of this character and its limitations in this respect are, manifestly, fully appreciated by the offending journals.

Dislocation of business.—Ordinary retail business was not so greatly interfered with as during the April and May riots, since the shopkeepers had grown more skilled in reading the signs of the times and, while panic spread as quickly as on previous occasions, it was generally limited to the immediate area in which disturbance was apprehended and ceased immediately the occasion disappeared. Thus, on the occasion of the Raj Rajeswari procession, a number of shops along the line of route were closed in anticipation of trouble, but business was resumed almost immediately after the procession concluded. This readiness to return to normal conditions must, however, be largely attributed to the general confidence in the police dispositions and in the determination of the authorities to establish and maintain order.

The effect on wholesale business, however, was more material and the present riots have still further postponed the readjustment of the dislocation caused by the previous riots. The smaller dealers are not prepared to carry large stocks of goods and the bigger merchants are therefore saddled with such heavy stocks that they do not feel justified in ordering further supplies. This fact was clearly brought out at a meeting of the Marwari Chamber of Commerce on the 28th July, when it was decided that no Marwari merchant should order further supplies of piece-goods for a period of four months, under pain of serious penalties. The position is further complicated by the fact that these riots have clearly and emphatically demonstrated that the Hindu-Moslem trouble is by no means concluded and the possibility of further disturbance during the Pujah celebrations in October has accentuated the general reluctance to resume completely the normal course of business.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORTS OF THE BENGAL VETERINARY COLLEGE AND OF THE CIVIL VETERINARY DEPARTMENT, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1925-26.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND INDUSTRIES.

Veterinary.

RESOLUTION—No. 950T.-A. I.

DARJEELING, THE 21ST OCTOBER 1926.

READ—

The Annual Reports of the Bengal Veterinary College and of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, for the year 1925-26.

Mr. P. J. Kerr held charge of the department throughout the year. Mr. A. D. MacGregor was Principal, Bengal Veterinary College, and Captain R. T. Davis held the Vice-Principalship of the College throughout the year.

Since the close of the year four additional posts of reserve veterinary assistant surgeon have been sanctioned. The pay and prospects of the veterinary inspectors have also been improved. Other proposals of the Director relating to the departmental staff and supply of serum are engaging the attention of Government.

2. During the year there was a marked falling off in the number of students on the rolls of the Bengal Veterinary College, the number at the end of the session being 100 against 143, 139, 137 and 132 in the four preceding years. Whilst advantage of the College was largely taken by the sister Province of Bihar and Orissa to which half the students belonged, the number of the Bengal students declined from 49 to 29 in the year under review. The falling off in the number of Bengal students appears to have been due chiefly to the failure of District Boards in Bengal to employ veterinary graduates up to the prescribed standard and to the stoppage of stipends granted by Government in pursuance of the recommendations of the Bengal Retrenchment Committee.

The question of reviving the stipends is engaging the attention of Government.

3. Useful work continued to be done at the Raymond Research Laboratory attached to the College in such matters as the examination of brains of animals for rabies and pathological specimens; diagnosis of infectious diseases of animals; preparation of auto-vaccines, etc.

The number of patients treated and operated on during the year at the College Hospital rose from 2,088 to 2,587 and 218 to 296, respectively. There was a corresponding increase in the fee receipts from Rs. 30,038 to Rs. 30,820.

4. The report of the Civil Veterinary Department shows an increase in the mortality of animals from contagious diseases during the year, the total number of deaths reported being 33,224 against 21,901 in the preceding year. Of the total number of deaths rinderpest, which was prevalent throughout the province, was responsible for 24,695 deaths against 19,088 in the previous year, or 74 per cent. of the total mortality. The districts which suffered most were Tippera, Dinajpur, Dacca, Rangpur, Mymensingh and Pabna. Government notice with regret that 989 deaths in the districts of Dacca and Mymensingh were due to restricted supply of serum by the District Boards.

During the year the veterinary assistants attended 966 outbreaks of Rinderpest, Hæmorrhagic Septicæmia, Anthrax and Blackquarter, in which preventive inoculation was undertaken. The total number of cattle inoculated was 173,762 against 136,448 cattle inoculated in the previous year. The number of deaths among inoculated cattle was 972, or 0·5 per cent. of the total.

The immunity secured by the serum simultaneous inoculation was put to a practical test during the outbreak of rinderpest at the Rangpur Cattle Farm in the year under review. Those animals which had been inoculated by this method remained immune from the disease during the outbreak.

5. The veterinary assistant surgeons visited 15,429 villages and treated 100,830 cases, against 15,022 and 94,894, respectively, in the preceding year.

6. Two new dispensaries were opened by the local bodies during the year. The total number of such institutions now stands at 43. The total number of patients treated in these dispensaries was 51,025 against 47,260 in the preceding year. The thanks of Government are due to the District Board of Rangpur for the interest taken by it in the matter of expansion of veterinary work in the district, where there are seven dispensaries in addition to a veterinary hospital at the district headquarters.

7. His Excellency the Governor has much pleasure in acknowledging the valuable services of Mr. P. J. Kerr as Director, Civil Veterinary Department and Veterinary Adviser to Government, and in recording his appreciation of the good work done by Messrs. A. D. MacGregor and R. T. Davis in connection with the Bengal Veterinary College.

By order of the Governor in Council,

G. S. DUTT,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I. The requirements of sections 68 to 75, 77 to 79, 87 and 88 of Chapter IV of the said Act shall be dispensed with and the following rules and conditions shall be observed :—

(1) The Association shall employ a local agent in each recruiting district or such larger area as may be prescribed by the local Government in which garden sardars are employed under its control for the purpose of representing the Association in all matters connected with the supervision of such sardars.

(2) Every local agent shall provide sufficient and proper accommodation in a suitable place for emigrants or intending emigrants engaged or assisted and their dependents, pending their removal to a labour district, and the provisions of clauses (2) to (4) of section 62 shall apply to such accommodation.

(3) Every local agent shall keep two registers in the forms contained in the appendix to this notification, the one containing the names and descriptions of all garden sardars working under his control, and the other the names and descriptions of all emigrants or intending emigrants engaged or assisted by such garden sardars, together with the names and descriptions of the dependents of all persons so engaged by the sardars. The said registers shall be open to inspection at any time by any Magistrate or any police officer above the rank of sub-inspector, before the emigrants or the intending emigrants are despatched to the labour district. The local agent shall submit to the District Magistrate a copy of the entries in the second register, with the certificate in the form prescribed for the register.

(4) Any local agent shall, if so required by a Magistrate or by a police officer above the rank of sub-inspector, produce before such Magistrate or police officer any person engaged or assisted by a garden sardar working under the local agent's control, or any dependent of any person so engaged or assisted who is in a place of accommodation provided under clause (2).

(7) Every local agent shall satisfy himself that the names and addresses given by the garden sardars and by the persons engaged or assisted by them are correct and that the wages and other conditions of service are fully explained to, and understood by, the person so engaged or assisted.

(8) Every garden sardar shall be bound to give the local agent to whom he is accredited a true account of every person engaged or assisted by the garden sardars under him, and to correct any description of any such person given by that person which the sardar knows to be untrue or inaccurate.

(9) Every local agent shall be responsible for preventing to the best of his ability all misconduct on the part of the sardars accredited to him and for bringing all illegal acts committed by them to the notice of the District Magistrate.

(10) The license of any local agent who may be found not to have exercised due care in preventing misconduct on the part of the sardars accredited to him or to have failed to report any illegal act committed by any such sardar shall be liable to be cancelled by the District Magistrate of any district within which the local agent acts as such.

III. The requirements of section 76 of the Act are relaxed to such an extent as to permit the adoption of the following rule :—

When emigrants who having completed their engagements in Assam and returned to their country present themselves to a local agent and express a wish to be returned to the places of their former employment, the local agent may send such emigrants to the labour district wherein they were engaged to labour in the company of an agency peon, should there be no garden sardar available for the purpose of accompanying them, provided that in all such cases the local agent shall certify on the copy of the register of persons engaged by garden sardars working under his control which is submitted every month to the District Officer, that the persons so forwarded are actually emigrants who, having completed their engagements in Assam, are desirous of returning to the places of their former employment.

IV. The orders in paragraphs I to III above are further subject to the condition that the provisions in the remaining sections of chapter IV of the Act shall apply to these garden sardars as if the words "persons engaged or assisted to emigrate" were substituted for "labourer".

A. TOTTENHAM,

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

RESOLUTION.

TARIFFS.

Simla, the 2nd October 1926.

No. 235-T. (14).—The present rate of duty on matches imported from abroad is Re. 1-8 per gross, which represents a duty of more than 100 per cent. ad valorem. The duty was raised to the above figure purely as a revenue measure, and the Government of India have consistently rejected requests from manufacturers in India that the duty should be declared a protective duty. Nevertheless, a high revenue duty naturally has a protective effect, and since 1922, when the present duty was imposed, numerous match factories have been established in India, some of them using indigenous woods, and others wood imported in the log from abroad. Concurrently there has been a progressive decline in the customs revenue derived from matches. This revenue amounted to Rs. 154 lakhs in 1922-23 and Rs. 138 lakhs in 1923-24, but in 1925-26 it amounted (inclusive of the revenue from splints and veneers) only to Rs. 118 lakhs. As the Indian factories overcome technical difficulties and attain their full production the decrease in customs revenue is likely to become more serious.

2. In these circumstances, the Government of India consider that the whole position requires investigation, and they have decided to entrust this task to the Tariff Board. The first point for enquiry is whether the three conditions laid down in paragraph 97 of the Report of the Indian Fiscal Commission are satisfied in the case of the match industry in India, and whether the industry should be protected. If the answer to this question is in the affirmative, the Tariff Board will report at what rate the import duty should be fixed in order to give the industry the protection it requires and whether alternative measures of protection could suitably be adopted. If the answer is in the negative, the Government of India theoretically will be free to lower the import duty on matches in the interests both of the consumer and their own revenue from this source. But the Tariff Board will report to what extent vested interests have been created in India as the result of the present rate of duty, how far those vested interests require consideration and what prospect there is of the match industry in India establishing itself, if the present rate of duty is maintained. If the Tariff Board decides that consideration must be paid to the industry brought into existence by the present rate of duty and that the duty should be maintained at the present figure, or approximately at the present figure, it will further report whether the loss of customs revenue can be made up in whole or in part by any other appropriate form of taxation of the industry. In this connection, the attention of the Board is drawn to the remarks of the Honourable Commerce Member on the 24th March 1924, in the Council of State. Generally the Tariff Board will investigate the whole question and make such recommendations as seem germane to the subject.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be communicated to all local Governments and Administrations, all Departments of the Government of India, the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics, the Indian Trade Commissioner in London, and the Secretary, Tariff Board.

ORDERED also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

G. L. CORBETT,
Secretary to the Government of India.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT ON THE FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st MARCH 1926.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Forests.

CALCUTTA, THE 20TH OCTOBER 1926.

RESOLUTION—No. 1123T.R.

READ—

The Annual Progress Report on the Forest Administration in the Presidency of Bengal for the year ending 31st March 1926.

READ ALSO—

The reports of the previous three years and the Government resolutions thereon.

Mr. Shebbeare held charge of the department throughout the year.

2. Area.—There were at the end of the year 5,300 square miles of reserved forests. 1,857 square miles of protected forests, and 3,445 square miles of unclassed State forests. The area of reserved and protected forests was divided into ten local divisions. The main feature of the year was the creation of a new division, named the Dacca-Mymensingh division, from the Attia forest—a private forest handed over by the owners to the management of Government.

3. Working plans.—Of the total area of 7,157 square miles, 6,802 square miles were worked under plans already sanctioned (including 523 square miles of time-expired plans). No new working plan was started during the year, but revisions of the working plans of the Jalpaiguri and Buxa divisions were in progress, while preliminaries of a forest settlement record were commenced in the newly formed Dacca-Mymensingh division.

The method of exploitation adopted in the working plans is mainly the selection method (4,626 square miles out of 6,279 square miles). The method of clear-felling was adopted in 585 square miles, and that of improvement felling in 879.

The area under working plans has a programme of regeneration for 400 square miles by clear-felling and then planting, at the rate of 15 square miles a year. It has not, however, been possible to carry out this programme. Only a little over two square miles was taken up during the year, making a total of about 22 square miles up to the end of the year. It is reported that one reason is difficulty in getting suitable labour.

4. Utilisation.—Departmental extraction of timber consisted mainly of the produce of the saw mills at Sukhna and Toong, for which there is a ready market in the tea gardens, and of sleepers for the railways. An increase in demand for fuel cut and supplied departmentally is noticeable.

5. Khedda.—Departmental kheddas were conducted in the Bengal-Bhutan mahal in the Jalpaiguri district : 44 elephants were caught and the net profit was Rs. 37,072.

6. Outturn, revenue and expenditure.—The Governor in Council notices with satisfaction that the outturn as well as the revenue from forests has been steadily increasing. Although it was not possible to provide sufficient funds during the year for extension of roads and bridle-paths, so very necessary for the expansion of work in forest exploitation, the revenues showed an increase by about four lakhs, while the outturn of timber increased from 17·9 million cubic feet to 19·5 million.

7. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Mr. Shebbeare for his successful administration of the department His Excellency in Council also notices with pleasure the record of good work done by the other officers of the department referred to in the report.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of the above resolution be forwarded to the Conservator of Forests, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

A. K. JAMESON,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

RESOLUTION.

ECCLESIASTICAL.

Simla, the 23rd October 1926.

No. 336/C. (2).—The following circular letter to certain Local Governments No. 336-C (2), dated the 15th October 1926, is published for general information :—

I am directed to refer to the correspondence ending with your letter No. 18, dated the 11th March 1924, No. 59, dated the 12th February 1924, No. 13118-A., dated the 29th November 1923, No. 194-L.-I. A. (Eccl.), dated the 4th March 1924, No. 1098, dated the 11th January 1924, No. 422-D-23, dated the 4th December 1923, No. 7012-2804-III, dated the 21st November 1923, regarding the Indian Church Measure. When this correspondence took place, the negotiations regarding the Measure were in a preliminary stage. It is true that the conception of the scheme dates back for many years. But it was not until 1922 that the Metropolitan was in a position formally to approach the Government of India. His proposals were embodied in a rough draft of the Measure, butt he Government of India did not subject that draft to any detailed examination. They contented themselves with expressing their general sympathy with the object in view, and they informed the Metropolitan that before they could recommend the proposals for the support of the Secretary of State for India, they must be satisfied that the Measure commended itself to the Anglican community of India as a whole. And their object in consulting local Governments was merely to obtain a preliminary and tentative expression of opinion on the principle of the proposals and the object with which they had been formulated. As the result of this action on the part of the Government of India, the Diocesan Councils were consulted during the course of the year 1923, and with two exceptions they pronounced themselves in favour of the draft Measure. The majority of local Governments also took a favourable view, though some criticism was directed against certain of the provisions, and the only two local Governments which found themselves unable to approve of the proposals, expressed their sympathy with the object in view. In these circumstances, the Government of India felt justified in subjecting the proposals to detailed examination, and the last two years have been occupied in negotiations regarding the draft Measure both in India and in England. As the result of these negotiations, certain provisional conclusions have been reached by the Secretary of State for India in Council and the Government of India on the one hand and the Bishops of Calcutta and Bombay as representing the Provincial Council of the Church on the other, and the Government of India now desire to have the views of the Government of . . . . . on these conclusions. They are embodied in the documents forwarded with this letter as Appendices I, II and III. Appendix I is a statement of the principles which it is proposed to embody in a Bill to be presented to Parliament, Appendix II is a statement of the principles which it is proposed to embody in a measure to be introduced into the National Assembly of the Church of England, and Appendix III is a draft of the Rules which it is proposed to frame under the rule-making clause of the Bill, in the event of that Bill being accepted by Parliament. Certain details of the proposals contained in Appendix I and certain of the draft Rules are still under discussion. But the points at issue are not of major importance, and is thought that the documents forwarded with this lettar indicate sufficiently clearly the lines on which it is proposed to proceed and that they afford a suitable basis of discussion.

2. I am first to explain briefly what the general object of the proposed legislation is. It is to dissolve the legal union between the Church of England in India and the Church of England. The present position is that the Church of England in India is, in the eyes of the law, merely a part of the Church of England. It is bound by the ecclesiastical law of England; it can make no laws for itself ; and it has no powers of self-government. Under section 115 of the Government of India Act, the Metropolitan is 'subject to the general superintendence and revision of the Archbishop of Canterbury,' and the Bishops of the more important Sees in India are appointed by the Crown on the advice of the Secretary of State for India. These arrangements for the government of the Church of England in India date back to the Acts of 1813 and 1833. Then the Church consisted almost entirely of British people temporarily resident in India, and was in actual fact the Church of England in India. Now the position has changed. British people temporarily resident in India form only a comparatively small proportion of the Church in India, and the existing régime is out of harmony with modern conditions. Moreover, it is full of legal anomalies and difficulties. Thus, while under the Government of India Act the Metropolitan is subject to the general superintendence and revision of the Archbishop of Canterbury, no machinery exists by which these powers of superintendence can be exercised, and they have not been exercised within living memory. It is claimed, therefore, that the Church in India should now be given the right to make its own laws, and that it is time that it should become an autonomous Church, no longer merely a part of the Church of England, but independent of, though in communion with, that Church. There is, moreover, a deeper and more fundamental reason for separation. The claim is made that it is entirely in harmony with the genius of the Church of England that the daughter Church, of India should develop into an autonomous Regional Church. For the Church of England has consistently maintained the principle that "local National Churches should exist within the Catholic Church, and should have power so to settle their own affairs as to give that expression to Catholic truth which is natural to their country and people". The Government of India recognise that these are legitimate aspirations, and they are confident that Local Governments will take the same view.

3. But the problem how to give effect to this object has proved to be one of great difficulty. The Government of India incur considerable expenditure in respect of the Church of England in India. They maintain an establishment of Chaplains, they make grants in aid of other Clergy, and they keep up places of worship. It is common ground that for a long time the Indian Church will not be able to dispense with assistance of this kind. Its resources will not enable it to do so. Nor again has it ever been the intention of the Government of India that the institution of an autonomous Indian Church should imply the discontinuance of this assistance. Ever since British rule began in India Chaplains and Churches have been maintained for the benefit primarily of British-born servants of the Crown who are members of the Church of England. It is true that in recent years the Government of India have felt it necessary to reduce the number of Chaplains and to restrict, as far as may be, their ecclesiastical expenditure. But this policy has no connection whatever with the Indian Church Measure, and it may be taken that as a matter of policy and long practice the Government of India will continue to appoint Chaplains belonging to the Church of England to minister primarily to British-born servants of the Crown in India and that they will continue to maintain a sufficient number of Churches. One of the main difficulties in the case, therefore, has been the problem how to graft on to legislation primarily intended to place the Church in India in an independent position provisions which will secure the continuance of the system whereby Chaplains belonging to the Church of England and paid by the Government of India will be sent out to minister in the Indian Church. The documents appended to this letter show how it is proposed to solve this problem. It will be seen that at the same time an attempt has been made also to solve another difficult problem, namely, how the interests of members of the Church of England resident in India in general and of the British army in India and British-born servants of the Crown who are members of that Church in particular can best be safeguarded. This is a consideration which throughout the negotiations has been prominently in the mind of the Government of India. For clearly a special responsibility lies on them in respect of British troops and British-born servants of the Crown in India. It is primarily for their benefit that Chaplains and Churches are and will continue to be, maintained. It is not impossible, however unlikely it may be, that the Indian Church may develop on lines that will prove uncongenial to them, and the Government of India have regarded it as their duty as well as their right to insist that this contingency, remote though it may be, should be provided for before they could agree to the institution of the legislation necessary for the constitution of an autonomous Indian Church. They desire to add that the difficulties to which allusion has just been made have also been recognised by the Metropolitan, and their acknowledgments are due to him, to the Bishop of Bombay and to the other Bishops for their cordial co-operation in the search for a satisfactory solution.

4. I am now to give a concise exposition of the legislation which is contemplated. It is proposed to proceed partly by means of an Indian Church Measure to be passed under the procedure provided by the Church of England Assembly (Powers) Act, 1919, and partly by means of a Bill which will be submitted to Parliament in the ordinary way. The Measure and the Bill will be complementary one to the other. The Measure will confine itself to the main ecclesiastical object in view, namely, the severance of the legal connection between the Church of England and the Church of England in India, and the conferment on the latter, under the name of the Indian Church, of the power to govern itself. The Bill will repeal sections 115, 117, 118, 119, 120 and 121 of the Government of India Act, and will deal with the relations between the Indian Church and the Government of India and with the property of the Church. It is not thought necessary to explain at length why it is proposed to legislate partly by means of a Measure and partly by means of a Bill. This is primarily a question of procedure, and it is perhaps sufficient to say that the Secretary of State in Council has decided in consultation with his legal advisers that the appropriate method is to proceed in the above way. Care of course will be taken to ensure that both enactments come simultaneously into practical effect, and with this object in view it is proposed that the date of severance, that is the date on which the legal connection between the Church of England and the Church of England in India will be dissolved, should be a day to be fixed by the Governor General in Council not less than two years and not more than three years after the coming into operation of the Measure and the Bill. Under the draft Measure, as from the date of severance, the Metropolitan will cease to be subject to the general superintendence and revision of the Archbishop of Canterbury; it will no longer be necessary to obtain a Royal Mandate for the consecration of a Bishop for a charge in India; and the Indian Church will have power to frame rules, in such manner as may seem appropriate for its own good government and for the general management of its property and affairs. The Bill is more complicated. For the purposes of this letter, the most important provisions are those numbered 4 and 5 in Appendix I read with the definitions of 'Maintained Church' and 'Chaplains,' but it is necessary first to deal briefly with certain legal consequences which will follow, as from the date of severance, from the passing of the Bill into law. As has already been mentioned, one of these legal consequences is that certain sections of the Government of India Act will be repealed, and the arrangements which it is proposed to make in respect of Church property are also important. Much of the property of the Church is now held by the Bishops and Archdeacons as corporations sole. These corporations sole will be dissolved, and it is proposed that with certain stated exceptions the property of the Church should be held either by Indian Church Trustees or by Diocesan Trust Associations registered either under the Societies Registration Act, 1860, or under the Indian Companies Act, 1913. The latter Act has recently been amended so as to enable Associations formed for religious purposes to be registered under section 26. It is also possible that as the result of the Bill passing into law, some existing trusts may fail, and accordingly provision will be made in the Bill to enable new trust schemes to be settled. Some of the results of the repeal of sections 115 and 117 to 121 of the Government of India Act have already been mentioned, and it is necessary only to add that as soon as these sections are repealed, the Government of India will no longer be required by statute to pay the salaries of Bishops and Archdeacons of the Indian Church other than those in office on the date of severance. At the same time, the Bishops of the Indian Church will exercise episcopal supervision over Chaplains appointed by the Secretary of State, and the Archdeacons will also do much work for Government in respect of Maintained Churches and cemeteries, and there will be nothing to prevent the Government of India from making payment for such services. The Metropolitan indeed has already suggested that lump annual payments should be made to the Indian Church on this account, and the question is under separate consideration. For the rest, the Bill will expressly authorise the continuance of the existing practice whereby the Government of India maintains an establishment of Chaplains, makes grants in aid of other Clergy, and keeps up places of public worship. It is not proposed to repeal sections 122 and 123 of the Government of India Act and the Bill, therefore, will not affect such expenditure as is now incurred in respect of the Church of Scotland and other Christian Churches. A passing reference may be made to the proposal numbered 3 in Appendix I. Doubts of a very technical character have been expressed whether sentences of consecration hitherto pronounced in respect of the Churches of the Church of England in India are valid, and it is proposed that the opportunity afforded by this Bill should be taken once and for all to remove these doubts.

5. I am now to revert to the important question of safeguards. The Government of India have already referred in general terms to the fears which have been expressed in certain quarters that the Indian Church, if placed in a position of independence of the Church of England, may develop on lines uncongenial to members of the Church of England resident in India. In so far as Articles of Faith are concerned, effective safeguards will be embodied in the Constitution of the Indian Church. A preliminary draft of this Constitution* has already been drawn up, and I am to forward a copy of it, as revised up to December 1924, for the information of the Government of..... Part I contains a series of Preliminary Declarations concerning the principles accepted by the Indian Church as governing its Constitution. The first of these Declarations formally accepts, on behalf of the Indian Church, the faith of the one Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church of which the Church of England is also a part, and the terms of this Declaration can be altered only in accordance with the procedure prescribed by Part (a) of Preliminary Declaration 19. It will be seen that a change can be made only with such deliberation and such general consent that the danger of any divergence from the faith of the Church of England is so remote as to be almost negligible. Nevertheless ex majore cautelâ provision has been made for the contingency in the draft Bill, and the Bill sets out the consequences that will ensue if at any future time the Archbishop of Canterbury should certify that the Indian Church has ceased to be in communion with the Church of England. In that event, the Government of India will be at liberty to resume all Maintained Churches whether consecrated or not, and the Church of England will be at liberty to re-enter India and resume possession of those Churches.

6. It is obvious, however, that this procedure can be adopted only in the event of what has been described as an ecclesiastical cataclysm, and the Government of India are aware that the apprehensions which are felt centre chiefly round what may be termed matters of practice. In particular, fears have been expressed lest members of the Church of England temporarily resident in India may be deprived of the use in Churches of the English Books of Common Prayer. Here again safeguards have been provided partly in the Bill and partly in the Constitution of the Church. It has already been explained, that one of the difficulties of the case has been now best to incorporate in legislation primarily intended to place the Indian Church in an independent position. provisions which will secure the continuance of the system whereby the Secretary of State sends out Chaplains to minister in India, and places of public worship are maintained at the public expense. This difficulty has been met by authorising the Secretary of State and the Government of India in the Bill to maintain Churches and to keep up an establishment of Chaplains. Churches so maintained will be called "Maintained Churches" and a list of such Churches will be shown in a schedule to the Bill. A clause in the Bill will also empower the Governor-General in Council, with the previous sanction of the Secretary of State and with the concurrence of the Bishop of Calcutta, to frame rules relating to these Churches and Chaplains, and it is proposed that such statutory safeguards as are thought to be necessary should be included in these rules. A preliminary draft of the rules has already been drawn up in consultation with the Bishops of Calcutta and Bombay and is reproduced in Appendix III to this letter. Special attention is invited to Rules 5, 10, 11 and 15. Under Rule 5 every "Chaplain (as defined in the Bill) will have the right to use the Book of Common Prayer whether he is ministering in a Maintained Church or elsewhere to a congregation which includes members of the Church of England temporarily resident in India. Rules 10 to 12 deal with the liability of Government to keep Maintained Churches in repair. They do not impose on the Government any liability beyond what it accepts at present, and Rule 11 provides a means whereby Churches which it is not desired to keep in repair at the cost of the State may be removed from the list of Maintained Churches. Under Rule 15, the Churches from time to time entered in the list of Maintained Churches shall be available for the services of the Church of England as contained in any Book of Common Prayer from time to time authorised in England. Thus the principal safeguards provided by the Bill will be that wherever there are Chaplains appointed by the Secretary of State or wherever there are Maintained Churches, the continuance of the services of the Church of England is secured by Statutory Rules. The list of Maintained Churches will include the great majority of Churches where members of the Church of England temporarily resident in India worship in any considerable numbers, and it is thought that the Rules should remove all reasonable apprehensions.

7. Before proceeding further, the Government of India desire to explain the form of the proposed rule-making clause. It is of course unusual that the law should require that rules framed by the Governor General in Council with the sanction of the Secretary of State must obtain the concurrence of a third party. Originally it was intended that the subject-matter of the Rules should be embodied in a statement of intentions which would have only moral, not legal, force, but it was eventually decided that the agreement which had already been arrived at with the Church should be embodied in Statutory Rules. On the other hand, the Bishops, while they were willing and indeed anxious to give all reasonable protection to British congregations, contended that the freedom to be given to the Indian Church should not be impaired by legislative restrictions imposed on it from outside. The form of the proposed clause, therefore, was decided on, after careful consideration, as the best way of reconciling these two conflicting considerations. The Bill itself is of so unusual a character that the precedent is not likely to prove inconvenient, nor is the clause likely to prove inconvenient in practice. As has already been explained, a provisional agreement has already been reached as to the first draft of the rules to be issued under the clause, and the intention is that before the Bill is passed, the Rules will have been settled as a completed scheme. It is not expected that they will subsequently undergo any frequent or material changes.

8. Rule 25 deals with episcopal supervision. The Indian Church will provide episcopal supervision for Chaplains and episcopal ministrations for congregations worshipping in Maintained Churches. In this connection, however, Rule 26, which has been inserted with special reference to British troops in India, is important. Experience may show hereafter that other arrangements for the episcopal supervision of Chaplains ministering to the troops are desirable. For instance, it may be thought advisable that a Chaplain General with episcopal powers should be appointed or that a Bishop should be sent out from England as a Bishop of the Indian Church to exercise episcopal supervision over Chaplains ministering to the troops. Rule 26 accordingly provides that if the Bishop of Calcutta refuses to agree to an alteration of Rule 25 in this sense, the Archbishop of Canterbury, or failing him, some other person appointed either by him or by the Governor General in Council and the Bishop of Calcutta, may be called in as arbitrator.

9. Draft Rules 27 to 29 are intended to provide a remedy in the case of breaches of the Rules by the Indian Church. The main remedy provided is a reference to arbitration in accordance with Rule 26. But in the very last resort Rule 29 provides that the Governor General in Council with the sanction of the Secretary of State may resume all Maintained Churches vested in the Crown. In that event the Rule states that 'such of them as are duly consecrated shall be held in trust for the purposes of the Church of England and shall be freed from any claim by the Indian Church or officials or members therefor'. The wording of this part of the Rule is still under consideration and may require alteration: as it stands at present, it is identical with that of clause 4 (3) of the Bill. At first sight it would appear, therefore, that the ultimate sanction for a breach of the Rules is precisely the same as that provided for a breach of communion between the Indian Church and the Church of England and that in the event of Rule 29 being put into operation the Church of England could re-enter India as a Church and take possession of the resumed Churches. But the Rules must be read in the light of the fundamental principle that the Church of England can re-enter India as a Church only if the Indian Church has ceased to be in communion with it. The practical result of putting Rule 29 into operation, therefore, would be that the Secretary of State would be able to introduce Army Chaplains into India, and these Chaplains would minister in military Maintained Churches. In the circumstances set up by the necessity of putting Rule 29 into operation, it would probably be also possible to arrange under Rule 26 for the special episcopal supervision of these Chaplains. As regards other Churches for which Army

Chaplains would not be available, the position would be more difficult. They would be withdrawn from the Indian Church, and would be held in trust for the purposes of the Church of England. But in view of the fundamental principle referred to above, it is doubtful whether the Archbishop of Canterbury would send out clergymen of the Church of England to minister in them.

10. This difficulty is inherent in the problem. If the Church of England can re-enter India as a Church only in the event of a breach of communion with the Church, clearly the ultimate sanction for a continued breach of the Rules by the Indian Church must be something short of re-entry by the Church of England. But the Government of India are satisfied that the continued breach of the Rules which Rule 29 contemplates is not in the least likely to occur. For the Indian Church will be bound to the Government of India by many ties, and there are many visible and invisible sanctions for the Rules. To begin with, Rule 29 itself is a considerable safeguard against any such continued breach of the Rules. For the Indian Church could not contemplate with equanimity the formal removal of many Churches in India from its control. The moral damage which it would sustain, if the Government of India were compelled to take this extreme step, would be very great. Moreover, the Church would forfeit all claim to financial assistance from Government, and in addition would alienate many of its most generous supporters. Moreover, apart from Rule 29, there are safeguards provided by the Church itself in its own Constitution. I am to refer in particular to Preliminary Declaration No. 15, to Canon I of Chapter XIII and to Canon II of Chapter XXI. One of the principles accepted by the Church as governing its constitution is that 'so long as it includes congregations of British-born people who desire the services and customs of the Church of their native land as well as others who in this country have always been accustomed to such services in the English language, it will provide that the worship in the Churches frequented by such congregations shall be, as nearly as circumstances permit, similar to that in use in the Church of England'. The Government of India understand that the Church is willing to make this Preliminary Declaration capable of alteration only by much the same procedure as that prescribed in Part (a) of Preliminary Declaration 19. Canon II of Chapter XXI again secures the use of the Book of Common Prayer in the English language not only in Maintained Churches but also in Churches 'where those congregations worship which consist wholly or predominantly of persons brought up in the Church of England or of other persons who are accustomed to the use of the Book of Common Prayer in the English language'. Finally, every Bishop before consecration will be required formally to declare his assent to the Preliminary Declarations and his willingness to be bound by the Canons and Rules of the Church. The cumulative effect of all these safeguards taken together is very great, and the Government of India are satisfied that the Rules and the Constitution of the Church between them provide every practicable safeguard against a contingency which in itself is exceedingly unlikely to occur.

11. Draft Rule 30 which provides that the Governor General in Council, with the sanction of the Secretary of State, may give five years' notice of his intention to terminate the arrangements embodied in the Rules, must also be read in the light of the observations made in the previous paragraphs. In the event of such notice being given, all military Maintained Churches may be resumed, and such Churches could then be manned by Chaplains of the Royal Army Chaplains Department. The Rule will operate in two ways. It will enable the Government of India to terminate the arrangements if they prove to be unsatisfactory, and further the mere fact that such power is reserved to the Government of India will facilitate the alteration of the Rules, if alteration is found to be necessary.

12. I am next to invite attention to the proposed clause 4 (f) of the Bill which excepts certain cathedrals from resumption of control. The clause is at present in a purely provisional form, and the arguments for and against its retention are evenly balanced. On the one hand, it might be said that as the great majority of persons attending services in these cathedrals are members of the Church of England temporarily resident in India, and since the cathedrals themselves have been regarded as embodying in a peculiar degree the connection with the Church of England, the sub-clause should be omitted from the Bill. Further, it must be remembered that this sub-clause will come into operation only in the event of a breach of communion between the Church of England and the Indian Church. If such a breach of communion occurs, therefore, it might be urged that these cathedrals should revert to the Church of England in India. On the other hand, it has been pointed that the loss of the cathedrals would constitute the most damaging blow to the prestige of the Indian Church. The practical importance of the sub-clause is small, since in the view of the Government of India it is most unlikely that it will ever be put into operation. At the same time, I am to ask for the opinion of the Government of.....whether the sub-clause should be omitted, or alternatively whether it should be retained with the addition of the word 'Calcutta'. If the cathedrals in Bombay, Nagpur and Madras are exempt from this resumption of control, it is not easy to see why the cathedral at Calcutta should not similarly be exempt.

13. There is one more point which ought to be mentioned. In paragraph 1 above the Government of India have said that in 1923 the draft Measure was approved by all Diocesan Councils except two. The proposals were again laid before the Diocesan Councils in 1925, and then they were approved by all Diocesan Councils without exception. They were also approved by practically the unanimous vote of the Provincial Council in January last, and it may be taken that the opinion of the Indian Church as expressed in the manner provided for by its constitution is solid in favour of the proposals. I am also to add that the proposals have received the approval and support of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

14. I am to apologise for the length of this letter. But in view of the extreme complexity of the case, the Government of India have thought it advisable to set out a full exposition of the proposals. I am now to ask that the Government of..... will examine the documents forwarded with this letter in the right of these remarks, and will let the Government of India have their views as soon as possible. The Government of India would be very grateful if the Government of.....would make it convenient to send a reply with the least possible delay. If it is finally decided to proceed with the necessary legislation, it is very desirable that this should be secured from Parliament next year; and in this event the Secretary of State is anxious to have the matter before him in final form within the next 2 or 3 months.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall affect the power of the Indian Legislature, with the previous approval of the Secretary of State for India in Council, to repeal or alter any of the provisions of this section.

Statement of principles to be embodied in a Measure to be introduced into the National Assembly of the Church of England.

The expression "rule" includes canon, article, declaration, constitution and regulation.

The expression "the rules of the Indian Church" means the ecclesiastical law and the articles, canons, doctrines, rites, rules, discipline and ordinances of the Church of England in India existing at the date of the passing of this Measure with and subject to such modification or alteration, if any, as may after the passing of this Measure be duly made therein by the Indian Church.

The expression "Bishop of Calcutta" means the Bishop of Calcutta for the time being, whether called Bishop or Archbishop or by whatever name called.

DRAFT RULES.

(See paragraph 5 of Appendix I.)

Of Chaplains.

1. No Chaplain appointed by the Secretary of State in Council from among the Clergy of the Church of England or any Church in communion therewith shall minister in any Maintained Church in any diocese in India unless he has obtained and holds a licence to officiate (hereinafter called a licence) from the Bishop of the diocese concerned. Every such Chaplain as a condition of obtaining such license shall make the declarations required to be made by the Canons of the Indian Church before a licence is granted. Such licence when requested shall not be withheld except on account of the Chaplain's refusal to make any of the said declarations or for reasons for which under the law for the time being in force in England a Bishop of the Church of England may refuse to institute or admit a clergyman presented to a benefice in England (other than reasons concerning the transfer of the right of patronage). If any Bishop of the Indian Church withholds a licence for which request is made by a Chaplain either on first appointment as Chaplain or on transfer from one diocese to another, the Chaplain may appeal either to the Bishop of Calcutta or, if the Bishop of Calcutta is the Bishop who has withheld the licence, to the Bishop of Madras or the Bishop of Bombay, whichever is senior by consecration. If any such appeal is allowed, the Bishop who has withheld the licence shall thereupon grant it. Provided that a Chaplain working in India at the date of severance and holding a licence from the Bishop of his diocese shall not be required to obtain a new licence unless and until he is transferred to another diocese.

2. Every Chaplain shall be under the episcopal supervision of the Bishop whose licence he holds, and his successors.

3. No Chaplain shall undertake any work other than that of ministering to His Majesty's troops and the servants of the Crown and their families if either the Bishop or the Governor General in Council objects to his undertaking such work.

4. Subject to the provisions of Rule 5, no Chaplain shall officiate as a minister of the Indian Church except in so far as he may be authorised so to officiate in accordance with the rules for the time being of the Indian Church; nor shall any Chaplain administer or perform any sacrament, rite, ceremony, solemnisation of marriage, service or religious ministration of any kind purporting to be a sacrament, rite, ceremony, solemnisation, service or religious ministration of the Indian Church except in conformity with the rules for the time being of that Church.

5. Every Chaplain shall have the right to use the services contained in any Book of Common Prayer from time to time authorised in England when ministering in a Maintained Church or elsewhere to a congregation which includes members of the Church of England temporarily resident in India and which worships in the English language, and no Chaplain shall, by reason of exercising this right, notwithstanding anything in the constitution, Canons or Rules of the Indian Church, be liable to any ecclesiastical penalty, censure or disability whatsoever, nor shall any authority of the Indian Church hinder any Chaplain in the exercise of such right.

6. Subject to the provisions of Rule 1, Chaplains shall be posted by such person or persons as the Governor General in Council after consultation with the Bishop of Calcutta shall appoint.

7. The Governor General in Council shall facilitate the attendance of Chaplains at Diocesan Councils when summoned by the Bishops.

8. Before commencing proceedings or allowing proceedings to be commenced against any Chaplain before any Ecclesiastical Court, the Diocesan Bishop concerned shall notify the Local Government concerned of his intention so to do, and shall give the fullest consideration to any representation on the subject that may within four weeks of such notification be made to him by the Local Government.

9. Before withdrawing the licence of any Chaplain the Diocesan Bishop concerned shall communicate in confidence in such way as he thinks fit with the head of the Local Government concerned, and shall, if desired, discuss his intention privately with such head.

Of Maintained Churches.

10. The Churches entered for the time being in the Second Schedule to the Indian Church Act shall be maintained and repaired at Government expense, provided that nothing in this rule shall impose any liability on Government to repair any Church when before the passing of the Act such Church was not repaired at Government expense.

11. The Governor General in Council may remove any Church from the list contained in the Second Schedule to the Indian Church Act by agreement with the Bishop of Calcutta or by twelve months' notice expiring with the end of a financial year, provided that such notice shall not be given unless he has notified his intention to do so to the Bishop of Calcutta and allowed him a reasonable opportunity of showing cause against such removal.

12. The Governor General in Council may with the concurrence of the Bishop of Calcutta add any Church to the list, transfer any Church from one subdivision of Part I of the list to another, or replace on the list any Church which has been removed in accordance with Rule 11, and such addition or replacement shall take effect from the beginning of a financial year.

13. The Governor General in Council shall, before the end of March in each year, send to the Bishop of Calcutta a correct list of Maintained Churches for the ensuing financial year.

14. If the Governor General in Council removes a Church from the list for the time being of Maintained Churches, such Church if at that time vested in the Crown shall vest in the Indian Church Trustees, provided that if the Governor General in Council shall so require, the Indian Church Trustees shall hold it upon the trusts following, namely :—

(1) Upon trust to permit the services of the Church of England as contained in any Book of Common Prayer from time to time authorised in England or any of them to be performed in that Church for any congregation which includes members of the Church of England domiciled in the British Isles, (a) if a majority of the members of the congregation so domiciled or a majority of the members of the congregation worshipping in that Church in the English language desire such services, and (b) if and so long as the congregation is willing to contribute an equitable sum to be determined by the Bishop of the Diocese towards the cost of such services and towards the maintenance and repair of the Church ;

(2) Upon trust to arrange for such services to be held at such times as are convenient to the congregation :

Provided further that if during a period of seven consecutive years, which period may include any period previous to the date of severance, no service has been held in any such Church, such Church shall be held freed and absolved from the trusts (if any) above specified.

15. Subject to the provisions of these Rules the Churches from time to time entered in the list of Maintained Churches shall be available for the services of the Church of England as contained in any Book of Common Prayer from time to time authorised in England.

16. The services mentioned in Rule 15, when performed in a Maintained Church, shall be performed in such manner and according to such rules and by such persons as may be agreed as being in accordance with the practice of the Church of England by the Governor General in Council and the Bishop of Calcutta, or, failing agreement, as may be determined by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

17. Subject to the provision of Rules 15 and 21, a form of service or a form of part of a service authorised in India but not in England may be used in a Maintained Church, if the Chaplain or Minister in Charge of that Church and the Church Committee desire it.

18. (1) Forms of service authorised by the Bishop of Calcutta or the Bishop of the Diocese either (i) for special occasions at the request or with the consent of the Government of India or any Local Government or (ii) for troops at the request of the Commander-in-Chief in India, may be used in Maintained Churches either in addition to the Church of England services or in substitution therefor.

(2) Special Collects for occasions or subjects peculiar to India may, on the appropriate occasions, be either substituted for prayers in the Church of England services or be added to those services.

19. Subject to the provisions of Rule 18, no service or part of a service which is not either contained in any Book of Common Prayer from time to time authorised in England or authorised by the Indian Church shall be used in a consecrated Maintained Church except when the Church is lent to some other Church or denomination.

20. No sacrament, rite, ceremony, solemnisation of marriage, service or religious ministration of any kind purporting to be a sacrament, rite, ceremony, solemnisation, service or religious ministration of the Indian Church shall be administered or performed in any Maintained Church except in conformity with the rules for the time being of the Indian Church.

21. The services of the Church of England shall, in every Maintained Church, have the first claim to the hours of service on every Sunday and Holy Day, and the times at which they shall be held shall be those most convenient to the congregation attending the Church of England services which are conducted in the English language in that Church. The hours shall be fixed by the Chaplain or Minister in Charge in consultation with the Church Committee, and, in the case of services for troops, the Officer commanding the station.

22. No congregation which at the date of severance had a customary right to worship in a Maintained Church shall be prevented from so doing.

23. The practice or practices followed by the Church of England in India with regard to the marriage of persons in Churches during the 20 years preceding the date of severance, including those relating to the marriage in Church of divorced persons and to marriages between persons within the prohibited degrees, shall continue to be followed in Maintained Churches unless and until they are modified by the Indian Church, but no person whose domicile is outside India shall be debarred by any rule made by the Indian Church from being married in a Maintained Church who would have been entitled to be married in such Church by the rules as followed before the date of severance.

24. The arrangements made for the loan of churches which have been consecrated for the use of the Church of England which are in force at the date of severance shall be carried out by the Church in India unless varied by mutual consent of the Governor General in Council and the Bishop of Calcutta.

Of Episcopal Supervision and Ministrations.

25. The Indian Church shall provide episcopal supervision for Chaplains and episcopal ministrations for the congregations worshipping in Maintained Churches, and the Governor General in Council shall make such grants as he may think fit to the Church in consideration of such episcopal supervision and ministrations.

Alteration of Rules.

26. If the Bishop of Calcutta refuses to concur in an alteration of these rules proposed by the Governor General in Council, with the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, as regards the episcopal supervision of Chaplains ministering to troops, the Governor General in Council may, if he thinks fit, require the matter to be referred to arbitration of the Archbishop of Canterbury, or, if he be unwilling to act, some person appointed by him, or, if he fails to make such appointment, a person appointed by the Governor General in Council and the Bishop of Calcutta, and in the case of such reference the decision of the arbitrator shall be final.

Breaches of the Rules.

27.—(1) If it shall appear to a Local Government that any officer of the Indian Church has committed a breach of these rules, it shall report the same to the Bishop, who shall take such steps as he thinks fit to ensure their observance, and if a Local Government considers that a Bishop is permitting or himself taking action contrary to these rules, or has failed to ensure observance of the rules, the Local Government may request the Governor General in Council to bring the matter to the notice of the Bishop of Calcutta, who shall thereupon take such steps as he thinks fit to ensure the observance of the rules.

(2) In like manner the Governor General in Council may of his own motion bring any alleged breaches of the rules to the notice of the Bishop of Calcutta, who shall thereupon take such steps as he thinks fit to ensure their observance.

(3) The Governor General in Council, whether acting of his own motion or at the request of a Local Government, shall give the Bishop of Calcutta an opportunity of taking action with regard to such alleged breaches, before he proceeds to act under the next following rule.

28.—(i) If after bringing alleged breaches of these rules to the notice of the Bishop of Calcutta, the Governor General in Council shall be of opinion that such breaches continue to be committed, whether with the knowledge of the authorities of the Indian Church or through their default or neglect, or otherwise, or (ii) if he shall be of opinion that the Indian Church is so administered that the general intention of these rules is frustrated, and if, in either case, the Bishop of Calcutta differs from the opinion of the Governor General in Council, the matter or matters in question shall, with the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, be referred to arbitration in the manner provided by Rule 26, and the decision of the arbitrator shall be final.

29. If the arbitrator shall find that a breach of these rules has been and is being committed or that the Indian Church is so administered that the general intention of these rules is frustrated and that the default is such as to justify the Secretary of State in Council in terminating the arrangements with that Church embodied in these rules, then the Governor General in Council, with the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, after considering any suggestions of the arbitrator for remedying the default, may at his option either at once declare that all the Churches entered at that time in Part I of the Second Schedule to the Act shall at the expiration of twelve months from the date of the arbitrator's award vest in the Crown or such person or persons as the Governor General in Council may appoint for an absolute estate in possession, and such of them as are duly consecrated shall be held in trust for the purposes of the Church of England and shall be freed from any claim by the Indian Church or officials or members thereof, or give notice to the Bishop of Calcutta that unless action to remedy the default is taken to his satisfaction within twelve months from the date of his notice, the Churches shall, at a date to be fixed by him after the expiry of those twelve months, vest as above provided.

Special Provision for Termination of the Arrangements embodied in these Rules by the Secretary of State.

30. The Governor General in Council, with the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, may at any time give five years' notice to the Bishop of Calcutta that he intends to terminate the arrangements embodied in these rules, and in that case the Churches included at the date of the notice in Part IA of the Second Schedule to the Act shall vest forthwith on the expiration of the notice in the manner and under the conditions prescribed in Rule 29.

Secretary to the Government of India.

6. In selecting text-books for maktabs preference should be given to those by Moslem authors.

NOTE.—Districts Boards in charge of primary education are authorised to select text-books from the approved list. The Boards may select from the list approved by the Department a small number of text-books for use in both board and aided primary schools and maktabs under their control, care being taken to discourage anything in the shape of exclusive prescription and to secure that selection is made with the utmost care so as to avoid undue patronage. Inspecting officers should refrain from recommending any books to the teachers of primary schools and maktabs for selection and, in giving advice to District Boards in the matter of selection of text-books, should bear in mind that the system of exclusive prescription is to be discouraged.
